VOLUME VII

PUBLISHED ANNUALLY BY
THE SENIOR CLASS
LLANO HIGH SCHOOL

DEDICATION

In recognition of her many years of faithful work as a primary teacher in the Llano Schools, we, the pupils of the Senior Class, respectfully dedicate this volume of our annual to Miss Gillespie.

TO THE STUDENTS OF THE LLANO
PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Another year of school life, with its accomplishments and its failures, will soon be passed. Commencement will soon be here; and as we try to evaluate our work of the year, it will be well if we get a clear conception of what school life should accomplish for us, or rather, what we should accomplish in our school life.

The function of the school is not only the development of the student mentally; but should develop morally, socially and physically as well. If in your association with your school fellows, you have not gained self control, moral courage and become more socially efficient, if it is not easier to do the right thing because it is the right thing; that is, if you have not lived while you have been preparing for life, you will find that you have failed, regardless of your marks in English, Latin, and Algebra.

Never have the youth of our country had the opportunities and privileges that are theirs today. And never has there been so great need that they profit by these advantages. The country is calling for men and women as leaders in service as broad as civilization itself. From the school boys and girls of today the leaders of tomorrow will be chosen. Will you chose or be chosen?

W. O. JENKINS,
Superintendent of Schools.

WILLIE MAE SCHMIDT

Born in Llano, August 5, 1904; age 16. Program Committee O. Henry Society. Editor-in-Chief Mountaineer '21; Treasurer Class '20, '21; Mrs. Newton Carroll in "Cupid at Vassar."

"Bill"

Original member. Valedictory winner. She never gets tired of making A.

"She likes to read and she likes to write,
And Latin she cons within a night."

THERESE O. WEBER

Born in Llano, November 25, 1904; age 16. Member O. Henry Society; Class Prophet '21; Member La Tertulia.

"Web"

"Web" is one of our original members, and a good one at that. She was rightfully selected for Class Prophet.

"I never let my studies interfere with my education."

ETHEL SCOTT

Born in Llano, November 15, 1903; Age 17; member O. Henry Society. Member La Tertulia; Athletic Editor Mountaineer '21; Helen Conway in "Cupid at Vassar."

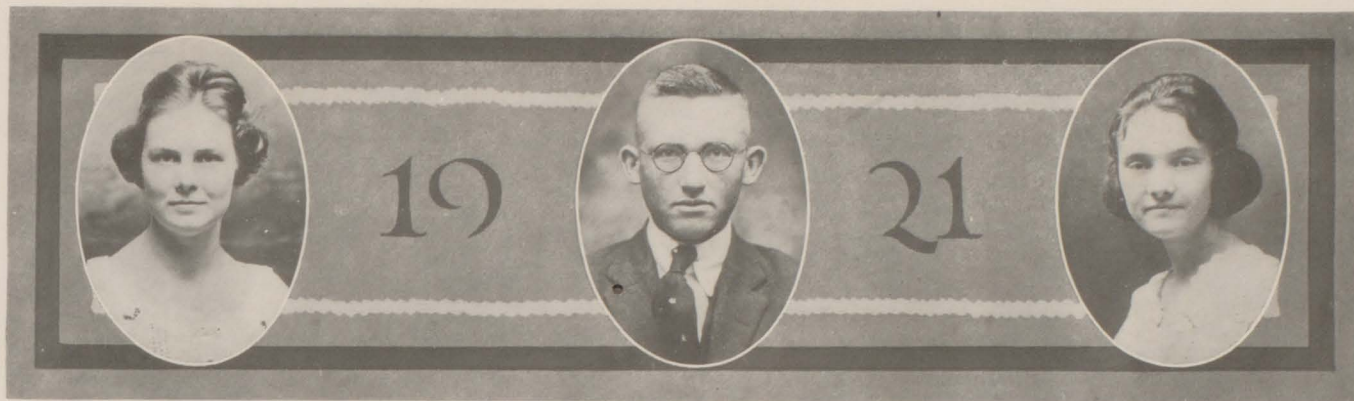

"Spec"

"Spec" made another addition to our class this year. She was the loss of the Juniors, but a gain for us.

"Makes you look into the future and ask yourself what destiny will be hers."

ANNIE MAE RAINIER

Born in Llano, February 26, 1904; Age 17; Member O. Henry Society; Art Editor Mountaineer '21.

"Raner," Mickey"

A class Beauty. An original and one of the best liked members of the class of '21.

"She seemest a Queen
And a Queen is for a King."

QUINTIN M. MARTIN

Born in Llano, March 4, 1904; age 17; President of Class '20, '21; Secretary O. Henry Society; Left-fielder on Baseball Team '20, '21; Cartoonist and Business Manager Mountaineer '21; Amos North in "Cupid at Vassar."

"Quincy," "Four Eyes."

Good old "Quincy" is one of the original members. Hardest worker of the Class and an artist to be proud of.

"It is not position but mind I want."

LOIS B. OZMENT

Born in Detroit, Texas, May 14, 1902; age 18; Member O. Henry Society; Society Editor Mountaineer '21; Matty Hart in "Cupid at Vassar."

"Lois"

Lois joined us this year. She is an ever pleasant and industrious student. A class Beauty.

"As lamps burn silent with unconscious light,
So modest ease in beauty shines most bright."

ALMA IRENE CLICK

Born in Click, Texas, December 14, 1902; Age 18; Member O. Henry Society; Ass't. Historian Mountaineer '21. Polly in "Cupid at Vassar."

"Almer"

An original member and a hard working student. Liked by every member of the class for her amiable ways.

"Her judgment good, her ways concise
She goes it all alone
She listens to her friends advice,
Then goes and takes her own."

HUBERT WELDON HARGON

Born in Burnet, Texas, September 17, 1901; Age 19; Member O. Henry Society; Manager Football Team '20.

"Crook"

"Crook" improved our class by joining us this year. Has more fun in class rooms than any one else in school.

"During the "Reign of Terror, in the days of yore,

By archery he won fame;
You know him for "Crook" is his name."

LUCILLE ALBERTA BROWN

Born in Llano, October 10, 1903; Age 17; Secretary of Class '20, '21; Member La Tertulia. Member O. Henry Society; Patty Snow in "Cupid at Vassar."

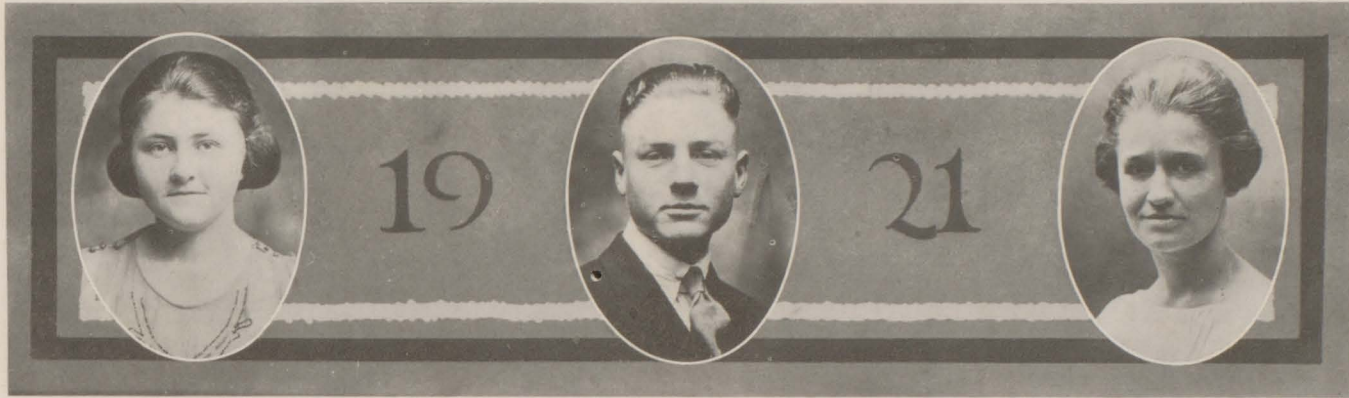

"Cile," "The Class"

'Cile is a quiet student and hopes to become a society belle some day. Original member.

"Of temper sweet, of yielding will,
Of firm yet placid mind."

EUNICE MARION WALKER

Born in Llano, January 7, 1904; age 17; Member O. Henry Society; Class Historian '21. Sally Webb in "Cupid at Vassar."

"Walker"

Original member. She is the "star" Latin student of the high school. "Her ways are admirable, Her words are few, She is a loyal member And forever true."

"Scout," "Bubber"

An industrious student, but has rather radical views. Seldom falls below A in his grades. Original member.

"Whence is thy learning? Has thy toil o'er books consumed the midnight oil?"

ANNA C. ROTH

Born in Llano, November 20, 1902; Age 18. Member O. Henry Society; Alumnae Editor Mountaineer '21.

"Anner"

Forever in a good humor and a willing worker. An original and energetic member.

"Her character is molded from the three words; happiness, content and good will."

MARGUERITE THOMPSON

Born in Llano, November 15, 1903; Age 17; Vice President Class '21; Member O. Henry Society; Ass't. Bus. Mgr. Mountaineer '21; Kate Newton in "Cupid at Vassar."

"Maggie"

Original member. Wherever there is an argument, "Maggie" is generally there.

"The notes of friends were falling fast,
As thru the chapel hall she passed.

WALLACE HAZELWOOD

Born in Shuteston, La., January 28, 1903; age 18.

"Nuts"

"Nuts" is not an active member of the class since he has had his 17 credits since last summer, but he will join us in the commencement exercises and get his diploma.

"He is perfectly witty, his ways are immense,
He'd tickle your fancy in spite of your sense."

BLANCHE HUMPHRIES

Born in Tahoka, Texas, December 1, 1904; Age 16; Member La Tertulia; President O. Henry Society; Class Poet; Wanda Carroll in "Cupid at Vassar."

"Lener"

Bianche is one of the most loyal members of the class and is always willing to do her share. Original member.

"Whatever she does, she does with ease
But she won't do that if she doesn't please."

SENIOR HISTORY

Safe and sound we have reached the end of our high school career. A short history of our school life must be a part of the Mountaineer. All of us did not enter Llano High School the same year; some of the members began their education elsewhere. Occasionally we hear one of the students telling of daring experiences he or she has had in one of the grammar grades. But all of our time was not given up to enjoyment; easily it could be seen by our grades that hours of study were spent from night to night.

In 1917, about thirty-five bright minded students entered this High School of ours as "Fishes"—each one with the ambition of winning the scholarship. At the end of the term, some had fallen by the wayside, while others had failed to make a sufficient average in their grades.

The next year, with more determination, we returned to school again, having acquired several new members. Our work was carried on very successfully that session. The new set of teachers used all of the influence they had to enlighten us. Nothing remarkable happened during that period, but we are all proud of the knowledge we gained.

As Juniors, we thought ourselves to be real grown-ups and that we had passed over the hardships—if there are any—of school life. But here we were disappointed—of all the difficult tasks to be performed, Geometry was the worst. We had no additions to our class that year, but the old "faithfuls" strove for an affiliation in fourth year English and third year Latin—working to the goal of graduation.

This year marks the end of high school life and the beginning of real life. There are fifteen Seniors in the class of '21. This studious bunch is composed of poets, spellers, debaters, musicians, and a cartoonist. None of us are glad that our school days are really drawing to a close—the memories of L. H. S. and the teachers we have had, will linger with us when we are old and gray. The term of 1920-'21 has been very interesting to us; we have been kept busy with our studies and efforts for publishing this annual. As we leave, a class of ambitious and intellectual young ladies and young gentlemen go forth, each one having a purpose in that he or she is going to carry out.

CLASS PROPHECY

I had been in Marion for four years. My paper, the Marion Star, had always held its own in all that time, and had been a financial success. I was contented with my successful career in the newspaper business, and well pleased with the world at large. One day I heard that a new paper was going to be published in our city; I heard people say what a brilliant editor the publishers had selected; and how the Marion Herald would perhaps soon be the leading newspaper. I laughed at them. Why should I be afraid of the new editor and his paper?

But, after a week, I saw the circulation of my paper dwindle from 100,000 copies to 40,000 a day. I became alarmed. Everyone praised the editor and said he was responsible for the great popularity of the Herald. I decided to see this genius; so I went down to the office of the Herald. To my great surprise, the editor was one of my old classmates of '21, Blanche Humphries. I had not seen her for nine years; in fact, since our graduation from high school. Blanche and I at once began talking about "old times." We decided we were both very tired of our strenuous business life, and that we would take a short vacation. Why not go back to Llano?

Accordingly we placed our papers under competent managers, and started on our way home. As we passed through Louisville, Kentucky, we were walking up the street when I suddenly noticed a large sign which attracted the attention of every passerby. Over the top was written KRAUT in large letters, while below was shown with very artistic illustrations the various stages through which the kraut had passed. We stood there and looked at it; directly I had an idea. We went into the store and inquired for the proprietor. It was our old classmate, Quintin Martin, who owned the store, and was making good money by means of the remarkable talent he had already shown when in high school.

In Memphis, Tenn., we stayed over two days to hear the wonderful lawyer for the defense in a famous murder case. The lawyer was Weldon Hargon. At Macon Ga., we heard a great lecturer. I was very anxious to meet her. To my amazement, it was another of our classmates, Ethel Scott. She told us she was traveling for a chautauqua; that she was making good money and was well pleased with her work.

While we were in Montgomery, Ala., I saw crossing the street, a couple who seemed very familiar to me. On closer observation, I found it was Willie Mae Schmidt. "Bill" had not changed very much. She introduced us to her husband, who was a rich cotton grower. She seemed to be happy, and asked us to come and see them; but, as our train was leaving in thirty minutes, we could not accept her kind invitation.

At Baton Rouge, La., we stepped into a beauty parlor. Blanche of course, quarreled with one of the girls because of the amount of her bill. The matter was taken to the proprietress, a cross looking old maid. All was finally settled, and she gave her a check. When the lady read the name on it, she nearly fainted. She then recognized me also; finally, I discovered it was one of our old friends, Lucille Brown. How she had changed. After so long a time we arrived into the borders of our native state. We did not make so very many stops on this last part of the trip, but came straight on through.

At Houston we were directed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Baltzell, where we visited for a week. Mrs. Baltzell had been Anna Roth. In San Antonio, we met Eunice Walker on a street car. We were quite surprised when she introduced us to her handsome, smiling, young husband. She informed us later, that he was a very good husband, and that he held a responsible position with the Southwestern Telephone Company. We would never have thought that of Mrs. Chapman???

While on the train from Houston, I noticed that the couple in front of us was quarreling fiercely. Blanche soon noticed it, too. The noise presently became unbearable, so we moved away. When they left the train, I recognized Marguerite Thompson and her husband of three years, William King. I had never heard him say a word before they were married.

In Austin we met Lois Ozment on the street, on her way to the University. She told us she was teaching there. We already knew the sad story of how she had been deceived by her lover many years ago, and how she had never quite gotten over it. My, how she had changed. We found two of our old classmates in the old home town. Alma Click owned the Popular, and sold us both a becoming hat, without recognizing us.

The other was Lawrence Bruhl. The first thing I noticed as I came through the business district of the city, was our old class "booster" at the window of Mr. Virgil Boston's old peanut stand. He was conducting a thriving business, and seemed well satisfied with his business and also with himself. He was predicting a great future for himself in the peanut business. I bought a bag of his well advertised wares without being recognized; I did not care.

While we were in Llano, Mrs. L. L. King, was down from Washington to spend a few weeks with her parents. Annie May had not changed a bit; she greeted us with that same old lovable smile; she was not a bit "stuck up" although she held such a high position in Washington society, that many envied her. We stayed in Llano two weeks. On the last day, my old standby, Blanche, turned traitor and came and showed me her new husband. He was the new editor of the Llano News. She tried to persuade me to remain in Llano, but I would not hear to it. When she saw that it was useless to talk to me, that I was going back anyway, she turned the management of the Marion Herald over to me.

So I set out, with a heavy heart, to wend my weary way back to Marion. Nearly all of my class were settled and happy, while I, a lonely old maid, had only my paper to comfort me.

—THERESE WEBER, Class Prophet.

JUNIOR HISTORY

In 1918 we came into a new land. Everything seemed wonderful and we did not know what to do with ourselves. We were Freshmen, or "Fish," as they are called. And we were a school of fish too; the class was larger than it has been since that time. That year will be remembered not only because we were freshmen, but so great was our influence, the World War ended that year.

The next year was our "wise" year. We lined up to our name as Sophomores. We all thought we were as wise as people could be. Carl Click, a good football player, entered our class that year. We were glad to have him because it brought another wise one into our midst. But before our wise year was over we found out that we were not wise, but completely helpless. Urban Reed, one of our best football players, died that year.

This year, our Junior year, is our fallow year. The only object we have in view is to graduate. But the Senior Class next year is going to be the best that has ever graduated from Llano High. Our class gained another new pupil this year, Erma Nowlin, who is certainly a good student.

Below is a short history of each student:

Missie Kothe—"Miss"

She would rather be in Castell than in Llano.

Minnie Belle McLean—"Minnie"

It should have been Minnie A instead of Minnie B.

Sam Simpson—"Footer"

He would fall in love if he wuzn't druv most crazy with work.

Lorena Parkhill—"Maggie"

She talks too loud?? Loud pedal please.

Preston Robinson—"Reckless"

It is not known who holds his heart.

Theo. Schorlemmer—"Shallowater"

Really very deep.

Kathryn Atkins—"Pat"

Her thoughts are always on the other side of the partition.

Mary Nash Buttery—"Nash"

Why do dark headed people appeal to her???

Carl Click—"Click"

Seldom heard but always seen.

Tate Dalrymple—"Chicken"

Our lawyer; he worries Miss Helen todeath arguing.

Freda Dabbs—"Fred"

She likes to drive a Buick slow???

Claire Hargon—"Cottie"

In love with a Junior.

Herman Roth—"Roth"

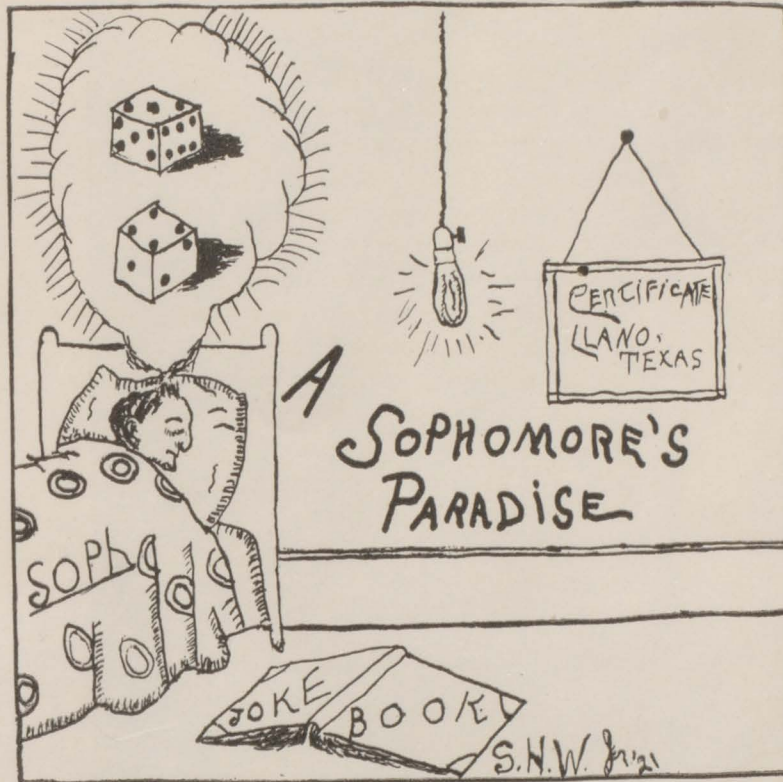

He had to go to Johnson City for a girl; those in Llano don't suit him.

Joe Whittenberg—"Josephine"

Joe why do all the girls like you?

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

Forest Smathers—Wanted: A body guard to fight the women off so that I can study.

Ruth McLennan—"Rufus" "Oh, let me see—" Let her think awhile.

Robert Pearson—"Bob." He travels fastest who travels alone.

Charles Milton Darnall—"Smilly." Goes to class for the purpose of correcting his teachers.

Sam Watkins—He leaves the girls alone; maybe there's a reason.

Veloy Humphries—"Lovely." Lovely has a piece of music named "flirting;" it isn't every girl that can play her favorite pastime.

Olivia Jackson—"Jack." Jack is the rubber doll of the basket ball team.

Frank Newsom—Although he's loyal to the pink and green, his heart is tied to a Junior Queen.

Curtis Barnett—"Vale" He is fond of porch swing athletics.

Ruby Johnson—"Dutch" She is a rara avis—"Math Shark".

Margaret Walker—"Boog."—She has the pep with 100 per cent fun, and the life of the class.

Margaret Brown—"Red Wing." Our bookworm and schoolma'am.

Jewel Ozment—"Juice" A good student, a good sport and a lively kid.

Earl Hardy—"Runt." Runt proves the saying that good things come in small packages.

Wilma Spinks—"Wilhemina." Wilma likes to vamp the boys; does she succeed?

Mary Thompson—"Sis" Mary, Mary, quite contrary, was never written of her; she's as happy as any kitten, with a sweet and peaceful purr.

Jewel Lindsey—"Judy." When she will, she will and when she won't there's the end of it. President of our class.

Ollie Walker—Wide awake and a good sport.

Lottie Ahrens—Lottie has a keen appreciation of live things.

Cordelia Norton—Cordelia's the life of the class when the teachers are out of the room.

Josephine Pehl—"Juicy." Fond of Mechanics.

Wachtman Holtzer—Author of: Here's to Woman—the Fairest work of the Great Author. The editor is large and no man should be without one.

Lenora Simpson—"Simp." Her ambition is to be the noisest girl.

Jessie Clymer—Jessie says that after all studying Spanish is not so bad.

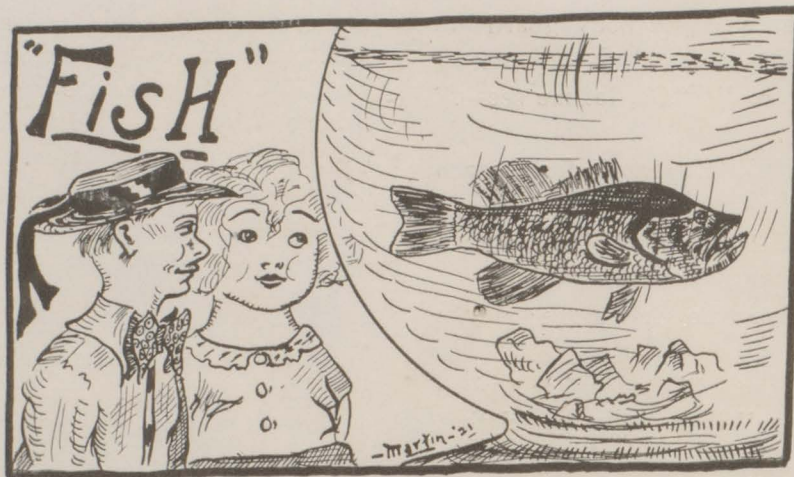

Ruby Deats—A good student and studies hard.

Selma Johnson—Another good student who deserves credit.

Mayrene Garrett—She's a sure sport. (So Forrest says.)

Lois Robinson—"Slim." She's inclined to be tardy.

The Freshmen Class

FRESHMEN HISTORY

Beatrice Pearson, Editor

No building can be constructed without a foundation. Neither can a High School exist without a Freshman Class. If an annual is to record the principal events of the year, surely the innocent prattle of the "tottling" first year students is not to be overlooked. They may not come first in intellect, but no one will deny that they surpass in number and noise.

We admit that we come last in the order of classification, but we contend that an engine makes no better time than the caboose. All we ask is that you give us a chance to show you what we can do.

The class was strengthened this year by several new members whose homes are a few miles south of Llano. Several hail from Oxford; they are: Sue Walton, Jewel Ricketson, Lula Mae Dees, Hazel Walton, Selma Dees and Lola Ricketson. Macon Delevan is also a new member and was on the football team. We were represented pretty well on the eleven this term, the following boys being on the team: Bruce Duncan, Wooten Whittenberg, and Macon Delevan.

A brief word concerning each of the "Fish" will give you some idea as to our future outlook:

Sue Walton—The fat of the class.

Victor Hallstrom—Better known as "Eek," always seen, but seldom heard.

Wooten Whittenberg—Famous "scribe" plays football.

Jewel Ricketson—Authority on Algebra.

Dudley Wallace—Motto: "Have a good time."

Hobart White—Hasn't opened his mouth except in class since he was in the first grade.

Lula Mae Dees—Latin star. Has a great habit of reciting history in Latin class.

Mary Lee Chestnut—Little but loud.

Gertrude Atchison—Thinks quick, acts quicker and never still.

Leon Ammons—Scribe of the class.

Lucille Atchison—She can resurrect the dead musicians, and make the live ones dance.

Mamie Bush—Slow but sure.

Hazel Walton—silent but studious.

Franklin Moseley—A black eyed Susan.

Frances Davis—Thirsty as a camel but seldom drinks.

Matt Dees—Cunning, courteous, and —

Macon Delevan—Desires the address of a company that sells condensed sleep.

Selma Dees—What she knows is legion.

Bruce Duncan—One of Prof. Jenkins' body guards

Lucile Griffay—She covers all the ground she stands on.

Beatrice Pearson—Punctual, persistent, and—pretty.

Grace King—A girl with a sweet disposition but seldom heard.

Lola Leverett—Always tends to her own business and lets others alone.

Mabel Leverett—One of the most studious girls.

Eleanor Norton—Future basketball coach. Assistant editor of class.

Rita Reed—She just found out last year that she could talk. A good pupil.

Lia Mae Wilburn—Small, but smart. Although she left Llano soon after the holidays, she will always be remembered by her classmates.

Lola Ricketson—We wonder why she is always day dreaming. A new comer.

Roy Schneider—"Slough hop.

A particular friend of Mr. Garner's.

Wilson Stribling—A country lad who joined us this year and has made good.

Charlie Thompson—We wonder why he is so small. Always pleased and laughing.

Maud Nowlin—We wonder what made her hair so red. A new comer.

Mildred Breazeale—One would think from her cheeks that she takes very violent exercise.

Noble Clark—The Class Baby.

Harry Holtzer—Class president, and a ladies' man.

Ethel Dees—Another who has left us. She has moved to Mason.

ACTIVITIES

FOOTBALL

Football is the most popular form of athletics in Llano High and our school has always maintained a high standing in the sport. Last year we were one of the three teams who were tied for the State championship.

We were not as fortunate this year, as in former years, in the outcome of the game. We started out in a poor condition on account of having so much raw material to develop. Another disadvantage was the fact that we played the strongest teams first an example of this being the game with Austin High.

Austin sent us a challenge early in the season and we accepted it. It so happened that it was the second game of the season for us, and naturally, we were not in shape for doing ourselves justice.

The outcome of the game was obvious before we went to the capitol city, but nevertheless, we showed them that we did not have "feathers on our legs."

The latter part of the season showed our boys that they were capable of holding their own. The hardest fought game was the second one with Cherokee Junior College. We well redeemed ourselves for the defeat in the first game. The first game was played on our home grounds and had we played more here than out of town, we perhaps, would have made a much better record.

We are fortunate this year inasmuch as none of the football players will graduate. Therefore, we will have experienced players to line up as the team of old Llano High.

FOOTBALL GAMES

Llano at Cherokee

The first game of the season was with Cherokee at Cherokee. Unpreparedness lost the game for us. The score was 13 to 7 in favor of Cherokee Junior College.

Llano at Austin

We made the trip to Austin without hope for victory, but we wanted to show them that we were not afraid of them. The score was 92 to 0.

Llano at San Saba

Our trip to San Saba was as fruitless as our two former trips. We lost by a score of 22 to 0.

Cherokee at Llano

The first victory of the season was made on our home grounds with Cherokee Junior College. The score was close but decisive. We won with 20 to 17.

Kerrville at Llano

Kerrville came down and held us for the entire game. She won the score of 7 to 0.

Mason at Llano

Mason played the first game with Llano High that she has ever played. Although they had a fast squad, they were outclassed by the locals. We won by a score of 34 to 0.

Bertram at Llano

Bertram was hopeful for a victory over Llano High, but as soon as the game started the result was obvious. We outplayed them in every way. We were victorious with a score of 32 to 0.

Llano at Marble Falls

We were eager for a victory over the Marble Falls eleven and played well to the end; but somehow we lost. The score shows that we were not outclassed. We lost by the close score of 13 to 6.

Menard at Menard

A wild trip was made to Menard in a Ford truck and to enjoy the trip was the main object of the journey. Nevertheless, we won out by a score of 13 to 6. The homeward trip was certainly warm and dry. (nit.)

BASKETBALL GAMES

BOY'S GAMES

Llano has never taken the interest in a Boy's Basketball team that she should. This year we organized a team and went out for honors in order to get to go to the district meet at Georgetown. Although we won the championship of the county with ease, when we tackled Burnet county, we were shown that we needed more experience. The games that we played are as follows:

Castell at Llano

Castell was the first team of the county that we defeated and she was an easy mark for us. The score was 10 to 3.

Lone Grove at Llano

Lone Grove was our next victim. She was disheartened in the very beginning and never recovered. The score was 20 to 6.

Llano at Marble Falls

Our easy victories over the rural schools of the county made us feel as though we were able to win from any one. Here we were mistaken; Marble Falls had the best team in this district and treated us rough. The Llano boys say that their defeat was due partly to the peculiar goals that Marble Falls had and they could not get used to them. That may have been the case, but nevertheless, that does not alter the score any. The game ended with the score of 20 to 3.

GIRL'S GAMES

The L. H. S. girls have won every game that they have played this year. They had a good team, each girl being a capable player. Miss Edna Groves, the coach, was also good and she fulfilled her position in every respect. Miss Lolete Ligon was the referee and she was always fair and square. The games were as follows:

Marble Falls at Llano.

The first match game of the season was played on the home court with the fast Marble Falls team. We won a complete victory of 21 to 9.

Cherokee at Llano

The next game was with Cherokee Junior College. We came out victorious with a score of 24 to 17.

Kerrville at Llano

Kerrville was the next to come over and we defeated her easily. The score this time was 34 to 10.

Llano at Marble Falls

In our next game we ventured over to Marble Falls and defeated them again with 11 to 9. This was the closest game we had.

Mason to Llano

Mason was our last victim and we beat them with the large and uneven score of 34 to 7.

BASEBALL GAMES

Thus far we have had a very successful season in Baseball. We have made a better showing in this particular branch of athletics this year than ever before. A brief summary of each of the games we have played up to April 20th., follows:

Llano and Cherokee Junior College

The first game of the season was played on our home grounds. We had a new pitcher in the box, Sam Watkins, and naturally, did not have a strong battery. Sam pitched a good game however, and we outplayed the visitors in many respects. Only a few vital errors were the cause of losing the game. The score was 15 to 13.

Llano at Lampasas

Our second game was with the strong nine of Lampasas High School. We made the trip down there in the morning of the day the game was played. Of course we had hopes for winning, but fate was against us and we lost by a score of 13 to 7.

Llano and Burnet

Our victory over Burnet was decisive and good work was shown by every player. Burnet played well but was not able to keep up with the locals. We won the game by a score of 9 to 4. We have a return game scheduled to be played in the near future and we will probably win again by a larger score.

Llano and Castell

The High School won a fast game with a team from Castell, comprised of about half high school students and part outsiders. The game was interesting from start to finish. Although Castell was the first to score, we carried the victory off in the final outcome, due partly to the good batting done by Click. The score was 5 to 2.

Llano at San Saba

We made the trip to San Saba with every hope of victory. Our team worked well until the last of the seventh inning, when the tied score of 1 and 1 was broken by the opponents running in 2 runs. The final score was 4 to 2.

San Saba at Llano

Our most noteworthy victory was the one obtained over San Saba at Llano. The game was featured by the good pitching of Duncan who got thirteen strikeouts. Our entire team worked well, to the last and hit the ball at will. One pitcher was knocked out of the box and the new one was no better. The score was 14 to 2.

THE COUNTY INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

The Llano County Meet was held at Llano on March 19th. As usual, the rural schools had more enthusiasm in the contests and had entrants for every contest. The contestants were well rewarded with prizes by the Llano business men. The winner of course, was Llano, but Castell was a close second. Eight schools were represented and the results in scoring points were as follows:

Llano High School -----	70
Castell -----	69 •
Field Creek -----	38
Lone Grove -----	15

The individual winners were as follows:

Class B. School Declamations:

Junior Girl—Marjorie Laning, Llano.

Senior Girl—Willie M. Schmidt, Llano.

Rural School Declamations:

Junior Girl—Myrtle Dalchau, Castell.

Junior Boy—Earl Gibson, Castell.

Senior Girl—Ona Mae Clinger, Lone Grove.

Senior Boy—Clifford Gibson, Castell.

Debating Team—Girls:

Blanche Humphries, Llano.

Marguerite Thompson, Llano.

Athletics, Senior Boys:

Preston Robinson, Llano.

Sam Simpson, Llano.

Carl Click, Llano.

Forrest Smathers, Llano.

Athletics, Junior Boys:

Harry Holtzer, Llano.

McBride Whittenberg, Llano.

Jim Watkins, Llano.

Chas. Thompson, Llano.

Very few, if any, of the Llano winners will get to go to the District Meet on April, 15th. The reason for this is that heretofore the expenses of the contestants have been paid, but this year they will have to be paid individually. Let us hope for a bigger and better County Meet next year.

TENNIS

Tennis has been a very prevalent sport this year, due mainly to the fact that Mr. T. A. Holland has taken the initiative in constructing a first class court. This court which is in front of the Southern Hotel, is one of the best in the state and the High School boys are allowed to use it.

We matched one game with Kerrville High, but for some reason on the day set, they failed to arrive. Our team is made up of:

First Team—Dudley Wallace and Leon Ammons.

Second Team — Earl Hardy and Louis Lee Wallace.

Other tennis enthusiasts in the school are: Noble Clark, Audrey Currie, Roy Schneider, and McBride Whittenberg.

LA TERTULIA

We are a fine looking bunch, arn't we? Well, we don't care if you like our looks or not, "we beg you to glance at our history."

The students of the Spanish classes met on January 31, 1921, to organize a Spanish Club. The results of the elections during the meet were as follows:

- Name ----- La Tertulia
- President ----- Missie Kothe
- Vice President ----- Curtis Barnett
- Secretary-Treasurer ----- Blanche Humphries
- Reporter ----- Theo. Schorlemmer
- Sargeant-at-Arms ----- Sam Watkins
- Program Committee—Therese Weber, Tate Dalrymple, Jewel Ozment.

A secret password was adopted.
 Many humorous things happen in the Spanish classes, the following are examples:
 Miss Groves (in class)—Lucile, with what do you eat rice?
 Lucile—With the nose.
 Curtis—Lucile, why not try soup that way too?

Miss Groves—Tate, make a sentence out of the list of words in your book.

Tate (not knowing the meaning of colo)—Maria tiene una cola.

Miss Groves entertained La Tertulia on February 23rd. The novel feature of the evening was "spinning the plate", the numbers being called out in Spanish.

Miss Freda Dabbs entertained March 9th. Everybody had a most enjoyable time, for we are known as a jolly bunch.

The following program was rendered March 23rd at the home of Miss Jewel Ozment.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

The object of the Literary Societies is to raise the standard of the subject among the students at large and to give each one practice in the different branches of the work that the organizations take up. The object in organizing two societies was to obtain the stimulating effect of competition. Naturally the two societies try to excel the other in the quality of their programs.

Programs are rendered every two weeks by one of the societies, the two taking turn about. Each program has not only been interesting and entertaining, but has been very beneficial in getting the cooperation of the student body as a whole.

The programs that are rendered are not confined to narrow limits but have a great variety of specialties. The principal features however, are; debates, vocal and piano solos, quartettes, dramatics, extemporaneous speeches and drills in parliamentary forms.

The Ninth and Tenth Society

On February 8, 1921, the tenth and ninth grades met in the ninth grade rooms for the purpose of organizing a literary society. The following officers were elected: Charles M. Darnall, president; Claire Hargon, secretary;

This society gave the first program and it set the standard by which all the others have been judged. This society has tended to refine the literary standards of the school and has given valuable experience to every one who has taken part.

The O. Henry Society

The Seniors and the Freshmen of Llano High were called together in chapel hall for the purpose of organizing a literary society. Miss Helen Oatman presided over the assembly until Blanche Humphries was elected president. Although the other society failed to get a name, this one did, and an appropriate one at that.

The preeminent purpose of the society has been to get up a program that was worth while. It was this society that started the debates for the programs, and a valuable addition it has proven.

The meetings of both societies have been so noteworthy that they have had long pieces written about them in the weekly paper.

DRAMATICS

Dramatics have played a large part in our school life this year. Our Senior Class has several good actors, and the class as a whole has made a success in the plays undertaken. The MOUNTAINEER presented financial problem. To solve this problem our class and the Sophomores brought our dramatic talents before the public in several well executed plays

The Senior Class started off the dramatics with a college play, Cupid at College.

This was the cast:

John Willet .....	Joe Whittenberg
Amos North .....	Quintin Martin
Mrs. Newton-Carroll .....	Willie M. Schmidt
Kate Newton .....	Marguerite Thompson
Wanda Carroll .....	Blanche Humphries
Miss Page .....	Edna Groves
Sally Webb .....	Eunice Walker
Hank, the hired man .....	Sam Simpson
Shiny, a negro .....	Tate Dalrymple
College Girls—Lucille Brown, Ethel Scott, Alma Click, Lois Ozment.

On account of inclement weather, the proceeds of this play were rather meager and necessitated further efforts in the work. As some will probably notice it was necessary to use some characters out of the other grades of the school.

THE SNOWBALL

The Sophomore class gave a three act comedy for the benefit of the Mountaineer, entitled "The Snowball." This interesting play was scheduled to be shown on Tuesday night, April 12, but due to a storm which came up at the time for the show, it was postponed until the night following. A full house was present for the entertainment and the Sophomores played their parts well. The following was the cast:

Felix Featherstone .....	Wachtman Holtzer
Uncle John .....	Robert Pearson
Harry Pendergast .....	Curtis Barnett
Saunders, a servant .....	Sam Watkins
Mrs. Featherstone .....	Jewel Lindsey
Ethel Granger .....	Olivia Jackson
Penelope .....	Jewel Ozment

THE MAJESTIC

The third dramatic effort of the year will be put on by the Senior Class with the aid of several others, in the form of a Majestic Vaudeville, on Thursday, April 28. This show will consist of four acts, the second, a playlet, called "A Watch, A Wallet and A Jack of Spades," the third act will be a musical program, both vocal and instrumental; the last act will be a one-act play entitled, "Deception." We are hoping for a great success both entertainingly and financially.

Holiday Party

Prof. and Mrs. W. O. Jenkins assisted by their two daughters, entertained the Senior Class of Llano High and a few invited guests with an enjoyable Bunco party on the night of December 28. The house was decorated with mistletoe and bright Christmas colors. While the games proceeded, Miss Annice Jenkins gave several selections on the piano. When Bunco was brought to a close, each boy was requested to sign up four girls for three minutes conversation on any subject. Refreshments were then served after which the company was favored with several piano solos.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, Misses Annice Jenkins, Ethel Jenkins, Anna Roth, Ethel Scott, Annie Mae Rainier, Alma Click, Willie Mae Schmidt, Lucille Brown, Blanche Humphries, Edna Mae Bradley, and Lawrence Bruhl, Wallace Hazelwood, Quintin Martin, Slator Moseley, and Leo Hardy.

Football Party

Friday evening, February 11, 1921, will long be remembered by those who had the good fortune to be entertained at the hospitable home of Professor and Mrs. Jenkins. This happy event was given in honor of the Llano High School Football team.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins showed themselves to be professionals in the art of entertaining. Hour after hour this happy band of young people enjoyed the game of Bunco. At the end of the games of this, the guests were served with delicious ice cream and cake. At a late hour the merry makers departed, each having expressed heartiest thanks to the host and hostess for the royal entertainment furnished by them.

Forty-two Party

The Seniors knew that Mr. Lawrence Bruhl would be an excellent host on any occasion, and this was proven when he entertained the Senior Class of Llano High School, and a few invited guests from the Sophomore class, the night of Friday, April 22, at the beautiful Bruhl home on the North side. The guests arrived about eight o'clock; they were invited into the dining room where they were served with some fruit punch. Immediately the game of progressive 42 was indulged in. Other games were then played until a late hour, when refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

THE MOUNTAINEER

The cool damp air of the morning
 Was felt by a lonely man
 As he mounted his trusted horse,
 As only mountaineers can.
 His day's work was one of riding
 With nature in the hills,
 And to see a startled red deer,
 Was one of his day's thrills.

He well knew the rocks and boulders
 That lay along his way,
 And the great expanse of country
 Was just a place for play.
 His companions were the rabbits,
 The coyotes and the birds,
 For nature was the only friend,
 That ever heard his words.

The morning passed and 'twas noon-day;
 The man then stopped his mount
 And gazed far into the distance
 At the deer he could not count.
 Half a day had passed and he felt

That nothing had been done;
 So he got down from off his horse
 And cooked a meal for one.

But again he soon was riding,
 Farther into the wilds.
 His cattle had gone for water
 To a creek, many miles.
 'Twas not long before he found them;
 He turned and started back,
 Driving his cattle before him
 And headed for his shack.

His home was only a cabin;
 His house-keeper, a dog,
 But he had learned to love the place,
 Each window and each log.
 As onward he silently rode,
 He dreamed of other climes,
 But no dreams were so dear to him
 As his own mountain "climbs."

TO OUR FACULTY

The Olympian gods were giving a banquet,
 Old Jupiter and all the rest,
 Goddess, nymphs, gods, demigods,
 Hector and Aeneas with the waving crest.
 Venus, Juno, Diana, Minerva, all,
 Occupied the honor places,
 Gazing down on newer dieties
 Some immortal from the worldly races.
 Talking, jesting, laughing, ran merrily on,
 And then riddles were suggested,
 The prize, two massive cups,
 Grave Jupiter pledged to the one who bested.
 Riddles and answers were crossed across the board;
 Now Oppollo, god of the Sun,
 Rose and spoke with grave face this
 Riddle, a profound unanswerable one:
 "When time is ended and all Earth's work is done,
 When nations, oldest and latest,
 Are rated by the mighty Jove,
 What tribe shall be ruler; who shall be greatest?
 An answer came from the lips of lovely Venus,
 "Why, those who have loved best,
 Loved without question or doubting,
 Those shall rule and tower above all the rest."
 "Not so," cried Minerva, the goddess of wars,
 "Who has bested in battles strife,
 Who fearlessly has faced the swords,

Surely he has bested in battles of life."
 And then a babble on Olympus arose.
 Gods against goddesses argued;
 Each one of their own opinion,
 Till over the mountain a storm cloud brewed.
 Finally mighty Jupiter banged for quiet,
 "It is to me the cups remain,
 Now hear who will be the highest;
 Nor foolishly strive the great place to attain
 It has been assigned since Earth's creation,
 To them all honor is due,
 On Earth perhaps of low station,
 But on Olympus their strange glories to view."
 The gods and goddesses began to question,
 "Say who is of the favored tribe,
 Who are these so cherished by gods,
 Who are these who will eternally abide?"
 Jupiter spoke; his voice rang down the ages,
 Echoing thru the halls of time,
 Resounding thru generations,
 Heard by all men and immortalized in rhyme.
 "They are a well known tribe now dwelling on earth,
 Bravely playing life's great game,
 Broadening minds, building nations;
 Listen, ye gods, High School Teachers is their name."

THE GRADUATING CLASS OF '21

If you should ask me who will graduate
 And enter new life happily planning their fate
 This nineteen hundred and twenty-first year
 From Llano High School to each heart so dear,
 I'd say: Quintin Martin, the class cartoonist,
 Lawrence Bruhl, his co-worker, debater and humorist;
 Weldon Hargon, by steady patience and trying,
 Will win through this year with colors high flying:
 Wallace Hazelwood, though out of school
 Receives his diploma by faculty rule.
 Marguerite Thompson and Annie Rainier
 Were inseparable throughout the whole year;
 We are waiting the day the world will be hit
 With wonderful stories by Willie Mae Schmidt.
 The class musician, Lucille Brown,
 Will be mentioned so proudly in her own home town
 Therese O. Weber of Geometry so fond,
 Perhaps she will specialize and yet measure a pond;
 Eunice M. Walker, her companion and friend.
 To struggling class mates her help she will lend;

One girl takes two Englishes, that's Alma Click,
 And at translating Caesar, makes it snappy and quick;
 Lois Ozment, very beautiful and true
 Though entered this year, has proven true blue.
 The littlest girl is Ethel Scott
 She's working very hard and will come out on top;
 Anna Roth, child of Luck, we girls partly know
 What happiness is life with a good, thoughtful beau.
 Last, but not least is our fun loving girl,
 With mischievous eyes and brown hair that will curl;
 Blanche Humphries, of course, you quickly have guessed,
 And you know well as I, "good traits to be stressed"
 O happy Senior Class, of many hard fought years,
 Thoughts of the vacancy you leave, to our eyes bring tears,
 But we wish you all sunshine in a long, happy life,
 Free from all shame and sadness and strife.

—Margaret Brown (Soph)

Apologies to Edward Lear

There was a young boy named Bruhl,
Who was called a witty young fool;
He made a bad grade
About which he brayed,
That witty young boy named Bruhl.

There was a strange girl named Anna
Who in chapel she sang soprano,
As she came down the stairs,
The school boys in pairs,
Said, "We've heard now we see your hosanna.

Another is a girl called Willie,
Who never was known to be silly,
She dined on fried trout
Combined with sauer kraut,
That bright German girl named Willie.

Another of the class is Lucille
Whose efforts to pass were not futile.
She worked out the path
Of the impossible math
That singular girl named Lucille

There was a cruel boy named Hargon
Who never did care for a bargain,
He ate some stewed gherkins,
Injured his internal workings,
That insolent boy they call Hargon.

A girl full of knowledge named Click,
Knew algebra, geometry and arithmetic.
She wrote a cruel theme
Of an Indian dream,
And made prominent her own name of Click

A most studious girl named Walker
Distinguished by being a non-talker
Studied Latin at night
Until her senses took flight,
That wise Latin student named Walker.

That dairy maid girl named Bradley,
Oftentimes recites rather badly,
She made a bare pass
To the wise Senior Class
But held up the good name of Bradley

A wise and pert Miss called Blanche
In athletics specialized in one branch,
She played basketball
In spring and in Fall
That versatile girl called Blanche.

One day Marguerite wore a bonnet
Which came untied when the birds sat upon it;
But she said, "I don't care!
All the birds in the air
Are welcome to sit on my bonnet!"

Quintin has been down in Skye,
Where he waltzed with a blue bottle fly,
    It buzzed a sweet tune
    To the light of the moon,
Which entranced young Quintin when in Skye.

Annie once dressed up in black,
And a grass hopper jumped on her back,
    When it chirped in her ear,
    She was smitten with fear,
That helpless young girl in black.

Ethel once frightened, said, "Hush!"
I perceive a young bird in this bush!"
    When they said, "Is it small?"
    She replied, "Not at all;
It is four times as big as the bush."

Lois Ozment once said, "How Shall I flee from this terrible cow?
    I will sit on this stile,
    And continue to smile,
Which may soften the heart of that cow."

REVIEW OF THE YEAR

The school term of '20 and '21 started off just as those in previous years have. We were under new management, since it was that we had a new superintendent, Prof. W. O. Jenkins. We began our work with energy and vigor determined to make good in all of our undertakings.

The first new custom to be introduced was a new method of reporting our grades. Instead of getting our report cards every school month of four weeks, we were to get them only every six weeks. The plan proved to be good and has worked well the entire year.

As a means of entertainment during recess time, we brought a donkey up for our pleasure. We had a regular rodeo for awhile and Sam Simpson proved to be the best rider.

Football practice began with the opening of the school and continued until Thanksgiving. We did not have much success in the sport as far as winning games is concerned, but our interest was not broken. The games have been recorded elsewhere in this book and those who will may read of them.

Two subjects were temporarily dropped from the curriculum because of no one desiring the courses. They were Physics and Bookkeeping but to keep the courses balanced, a more efficient Chemistry course was offered. In order to make this course better, the laboratory was replenished with a larger and better supply of chemicals and apparatus. Second year Spanish was also established and therefore made that course a permanent study and made us eligible for two more affiliated credits.

We failed to get the fourth year English affiliation last year but are working toward that end again this year and we have much better hopes of gaining it. Should we get the extra credit in English and the two in Spanish also, together with a renewed affiliation in Chemistry, the school would be rated with 21 credits.

The mid-term examinations soon came around and as soon as they were over we again started our work with relieved minds. Basketball became the sport in vogue and a boy's team was organized, which has its history taken up in preceding pages. About this time two literary societies were organized for the purpose of giving the student body both entertainment and practice in the work that they took up.

The old custom of printing a year book died out during the war and the Senior Class revived it with unbounded enthusiasm for success. As you read the contents of this book, you are determining the amount of our success. Long live the MOUNTAINEER!

since you have read the contents of this, our annual, we sincerely hope that you have been both informed and entertained. We intended for this book to be of interest to those both in the school and out, and what ever your opinion of the work is, measures the amount of our success. Our wish is that THE MOUNTAINEER will always find a place in the hearts and homes of future L. H. S. students and that every Senior Class will publish a volume.
