FOREWORD

This, the ninth volume of the "Mountaineer," marks an epoch in the lives of the Senior Class. By the publication of this book we have tried to uphold the traditions of our school, and into the making of it have gone our time, our dreams, our hopes, and our best efforts. We hope that to the Student Body and to all others who may turn its pages, this "Child of our Brain" may ever recall pleasant memories of by-gone school days.

THE LLANO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

MESSAGE TO THE SENIORS

The following article issued by the Better Schools League embodies the thought and inspiration which I would leave with you as my parting message:

I AM EDUCATION

I bear the torch that enlightens the world, fires the imagination of man, feeds the flame of genius. I give wings to dreams and might to hand and brain.

From out the deep shadows of the past I come, wearing the scars of struggle and the stripes of toil, but bearing in triumph the wisdom of all ages. Man, because of me, holds dominion over earth, air and sea; it is for him I leash the lightning, plumb the deep and shackle the ether.

I am the parent of progress, creator of culture, molder of destiny. Philosophy, science and art are the works of my hand. I banish ignorance, discourage vice, disarm anarchy.

Thus have I become freedom's citadel, the arm of democracy, the hope of youth, the pride of adolescence, the joy of age. Fortunate the nations and happy the homes that welcome me.

The school is my workshop; here I stir ambitions, stimulate ideals, forge the keys that open the door to opportunity. I am the source of inspiration; the aid of aspiration. I am irresistible power.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

By VIRGINIA TODD

In 1916, we, the Senior Class of 1927, made our first appearance at school. Of those who appeared on that first day the following are still with us: Earl McDonald, J. D. Fry, Norman Schuessler, Mary Louise Peacock, Ruth Robinson, Louise Weber (now Mrs. Aubrey Currie) and Virginia Todd. At the door we were greeted by Miss Ellen Gillespie, and it was she who put us on the right road to knowledge. After she finished her task of teaching us the a, b, c's, she sent us to the second grade. Here Miss Pearl Donop, now Mrs. Miles Buttery, caused us to study hard and to feel important at the same time, for we could solve the multiplication tables. The third important step in our lives was our promotion to the third grade, here to be under the influence of Miss Helen Oatman, now Mrs. Orville Buttery. Miss Helen declared us bright pupils and sent us on to Miss Myrtle Hargon, the fourth grade teacher. Here our struggle with fractions began. While in the fifth grade under the instruction of Miss Leroy Selman, we made our first appearance on the stage in a Mother Goose Play. Finally we reached the sixth grade where Miss Lena Schorlemmer taught us to sing to the tune of a pitch pipe, and how we did sing.

Now came the turning point in our lives—we went upstairs to the seventh grade. There we learned what the Library was, and we had a different teacher for every subject.

Being a Freshman was a still greater honor. We organized our class and were thoroughly disliked by the Seniors. During this year our president, Melvin Milliger, Mary May and Thelma Stewart, joined our class. Our Sophomore year was a happy one. We had Bobby Hewitt for our English teacher, and his wife for our Math teacher. The most important event, however, was the coming of Lenox Ligon and Adolph Mathews into the membership of our class.

Last year we came to the new school building as Juniors with Miss Deal as our room teacher. We gave an interesting play, "Professor Pep," and the annual Junior-Senior party. In the popularity contest we had our candidate, Alex Hardin, win as the most popular boy in school. Here two new pupils, Annie Lottie Brown and Thelma Medlock, became members of our class. On work day Ruth Robinson won a prize for the most unusual job. On May 27, we received our report cards and were Seniors.

In September, 1926, we began our career as dignified Seniors. We again have Miss Deal as our room teacher. We have had our fun this year as well as hard and diligent work. Several very delightful parties have been given. Miss Deal and Mary May entertained with a Christmas party at Mrs. Holtzer's; Myrtle Dalchau gave a lovely Washington Party at the home of Mrs. R. A. Byfield, and a Pirate Party was given by Ruth Robinson on the river at her home. The Juniors entertained us very royally with the annual Junior-Senior party. Also the P. T. A. gave a very pretty lawn party in our honor at the home of Mrs. Franklin Buttery.

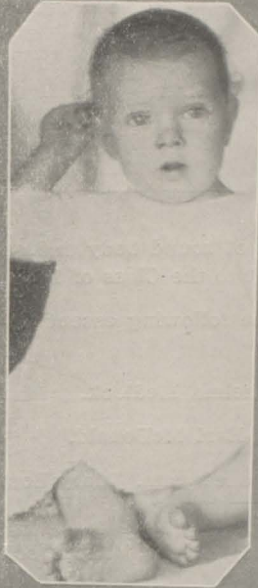

We are publishing the "Mountaineer", and of course we expect it to be the best of them all. We have given the famous mystery play, "Thirteen Plus," to help finance the "Mountaineer." We also feel proud of ourselves for winning the prize for the highest class average on Work Day. On this day we served a delicious dinner at the American Legion Hall.

Three of our candidates won in the Popularity Contest. They were, Virginia Todd, most popular girl; Norman Schuessler, wittiest boy; and Louise Weber Currie, prettiest girl. Louise, having the highest number of votes in the contest, was Queen of the Coronation Ceremonies.

This year Myrtle Dalchau and Leona Beesley joined our class and we have been truly glad to have them.

Now that our high school days are so near an end we realize how much we have enjoyed every year of our eleven years of work. We are sad, yet glad that we have accomplished enough in our years to be called the '27 Seniors of Llano High School. Our greatest hopes are that the next Senior Class and all the Senior Classes to come will be proud to say with us, "I am glad I graduated from Llano High School."

MOUNTAINEER-1927

SENIOR WILL

By LOUISE WEBER CURRIE

We, the Senior Class of 1927, of Llano High School, being of sound body and sane mind, do herewith make and publish our last will and testament to the Class of 1928.

To the members of said class we do give and bequeath the following essentials to success:

To Hallie Orr—My habit of wearing low heeled shoes. Thelma Medlock.

To Dorothy Todd—The secret of my naturally wavy curls, Earl McDonald.

To Lorene Ward—My habit of coming to class chewing Eugene's gum. Mary Louise Peacock.

To Brown Kendrick—My habit of continually arguing and "griping" about something. Louise Weber Currie.

To Blanche Martin—My business-like attitude and self-concentrated disposition, Melvin Milliger.

To Christine Rimes—My sophisticated walk and my foreign accent. Leona Beesley.

To Ruth Moore—My habit of hanging around the Annual Room when I am not wanted, Adolph Mathews.

To Margarete Hackworth—My desire to grow larger, Lois Stephens.

To Charles Nichols—My excess energy and vitality, J. D. Fry.

To Marie Hereford—My place as class "bone puller," Mary May.

To Wilburn Oatman—My sunny disposition and my place in the Senior class as the most fastidious boy, Lenox Ligon.

To Eugene Turbiville—My attractive and sentimental disposition, Thelma Stewart.

To Ray Chapman—My place as "Class Sheik," Norman Schuessler.

To Villa Mae Maddox—My etiquette book, my secret of how I vamp all the old men, and my extensive knowledge of Geometry, Virginia Todd.

To Lois Mae Keyser—My place on the program in chapel every fourth Monday, Ruth Robinson.

To Lycurgus Fabian—My beautifully monogramed leather bound book on "How to reduce," Annie Lottie Brown.

To Mildred Faris—My place in the Senior Class as "Best All-Around Girl," Myrtle Dalchau.

To the Class in general—our room, any notes and such like belongings we may have left, and "our place in the sun" as THE CLASS.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

By HALLIE ORR, Class Historian.

Having risen to the high position of being Juniors, we have nine years of eventful history behind us. We look back with amusement and happiness on some of our early escapades and entertainments, but with the distinct feeling of age and superiority befitting students of our years and standing.

The enrollment of our class now is probably as large as it was when we first began our educational careers under Miss Ellen Gillespie. Naturally, during the intervening years our class became much larger, but numerous students have withdrawn and now we have practically the original enrollment. Of course, there are few of the members who started in the first grade and there are many who have joined us in the ensuing years.

During our period in the Grammar Grades there are innumerable happy times to be remembered. Who can forget the excitement of the annual Valentine boxes and Christmas trees? All other trivial affairs, such as studies, were forgotten in the anticipation of these thrilling events. The Friday afternoon programs were sources of delight to pupils and fond parents who endured the speaking of "pieces" and such entertainments in order to hear the marvelous intelligence of their little darlings displayed.

We can even remember when the horse, that seldom used creature of today, was the means of transportation used by several of our classmates. Lorene and Christine were envied by everybody because they rode horseback to school, and the privilege of riding with them was greatly coveted. The "rakish sheiks" of the Junior Class can be remembered as the quiet, unsophisticated mischievous boys of a few years back who played marbles and spun tops incessantly and found their greatest pleasure in tormenting the poor little girls—now accomplished flappers of 1927.

As we progressed through the grammar school we became students of decided intelligence; well versed in the mysteries of the "three R's," and quite a few other things not included in the school curriculum. In both the fourth and fifth grades our teachers resigned in the middle of the term—surely through no fault of ours! The novelty of a different teacher proved quite interesting.

In the seventh grade we felt very superior, as we were in a room upstairs. Mr. Jenkins labored diligently to impress upon us the principles of arithmetic and discipline which we apparently had forgotten since our sixth grade experience. Mr. Tate took great pleasure in having unruly members of the study hall stand in the corner, and on one memorable occasion, he forcibly led Wilburn from the room by his ear.

From the eighth grade we emerged with a vast store of knowledge obtained from the conscientious tutelege of the Hewitts, now reported to be in the Phillipines. Both husband and wife seemed to have aged considerably when last seen leaving Llano in the trusty "Ford," no doubt due to the knowledge given up for us.

In our Sophomore year we developed more class spirit and accomplished a number of important things under the able assistance of our long-suffering advisor, Mr. Eli Briggs.

It is only natural, however, for the Junior class to be better organized than the classes of the first two years in high school; there are certain requirements which are made of the Juniors and we have tried to carry out our duties as well as possible. We have been fortunate in having an unusually efficient president and staff of officers as well as a splendid sponsor, Miss Beulah Cobb. Our class play, "The Hoodoo," has been quite the success of the season and has made us famous for our acting ability. We gave the Seniors an attractive party from which we gained much experience as well as pleasure; never again will we wait until the last day to begin actual work on such an affair!

With the increased executive ability which we have gained this year, we feel sure that we can make the Senior Class of 1927-28, a banner class in every respect and one that will meet the requirements of an ideal graduating class.

If you can stay in the study hall and study
While those near you are talking and having fun,
If you can memorize dates and results and reasons,
And finish the work in your notebook that isn't done;
If you can use the "trot" and the other boy's paper,
And a visit from the teacher never fear,
Your's is the school and everything that's in,
And what's more, you'll be a wonder, My Dear!

APPLESAUCE?

"Applesauce?" says one boy who reads this.

Alright boy, have it your own way. I tell you that cheaters are poor bargainers with themselves. You think everything is going well because you have outwitted your teacher by getting something for nothing. I fear that the cheater eventually pays the highest price possible for the little he gets.

As they say in selling an automobile, so may it be said with cheating: "It is not the original cost that counts, it is the upkeep."

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

By JACK JACKSON

We accredit our good wit, our humor and smartness to our good start received under the competent primary teacher, Miss Ellen Gillespie.

The second year on our road to higher knowledge was guarded by Miss May Smith. She very forcibly impressed on the minds of some members of the class that it was very unnecessary to eat sweets during school hours.

We passed on through the succeeding years of Grammar School with remarkably few casualties. In the passing grades we lost and gained some valuable members of the class.

The year spent in the Seventh grade was the most memorable of our grade school work. Every member in the class at one time or another was forced to bend before the onslaught of Mrs. Hewitt during arithmetic class. We are sure Doran will long remember the interviews with the teachers that year.

At the end of that year when we received our diplomas and became Freshmen, we felt that we knew about everything that was to be known. We were anxious to establish a good record last year and succeeded in putting one of our candidates over in the Popularity contest, and won all the honors on work day. The Senior Class of 1926, succeeded in making a few of the loud-mouthed Fish think they were the lowest form of humanity, but they did not succeed in breaking their pride.

Although when the members of the Sophomore class look back over this year it may not look so successful, but we must remember that at least one precedent has been broken, M. A. Reed and Jack Jackson were suspended for three days. We hope to show our sporting blood next year in that we will give the Seniors our whole support.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

By WINNIE ALLRED

In 1919, our first year in school, Miss Ellen Gillespie was our teacher. She taught us how to read and write and that was one of our happiest years. She took us on several picnics, and on Easter she gave us an Easter Egg Hunt.

When we entered the second grade Miss Grace StClair was our teacher. We mastered the multiplication tables and soon forgot them.

Miss Lydia Keese was our teacher in the third grade. About the middle of the year she decided that her home would be more complete with a husband, so she got married. When she returned from her honeymoon, she was Mrs. Allen Johnson. That year we went on several picnics and gave all kinds of showers for our beloved teacher.

We gave our first play when we were in the fourth grade, and cleared one hundred dollars. With this money we bought a victrola and some records. Miss Ethel Jenkins was our teacher. We often had folk dances and exercises.

In the fifth grade Miss Electra Beauchamp was our teacher. She took us on a picnic and the man who was driving the truck, backed into another car and mashed Juanita Garrett's foot. We didn't go on any more picnics that year.

Miss Alma McClenny was our sixth grade teacher. Most of us were fortunate enough to pass to the seventh grade.

We went to school upstairs in the seventh grade, and everyone felt his importance. Miss Ella George Rogers was our teacher.

This year, our eighth, we entered high school and everybody picks on us because we are freshmen. We battle hard with our lessons and some day we are planning to reach our goal. Miss Elles Frese is our room teacher and she has provided much amusement for us. We have had a Christmas party, a picnic and a Tacky party this year.

THE FACULTY

Bertha Pool Deal, a nobler girl you cannot find,
 When she goes she'll leave a good record behind;
 Her Spanish classes good grades have made,
 And soon the old Spaniard will be laid in the shade.

Beulah Cobb is an extra fine girl,
 Is so very neat and keeps her hair in curl,
 But while in the schoolroom she's boss, you bet,,
 If you don't come across, you must "git up and get."

Mr. Vick teaches farming on an improved scale,
 Tells you how to grow corn and better cotton to the bale.
 His wife is with him so he can work with a vim,
 So you needn't be casting sheep's eyes at him.

Mr. Sandlin, a very tall man is he,
 He is handsome as handsome can be;
 But when it comes to putting you wise,
 He'll tell you things that will open your eyes.

Minna Elles Frese, her name implies cold,
 But she has a warm heart and she's not very old;
 She likes men that are tall,
 Just likes them, you know, that's all.

I hope no one's feelings will be hurt,
 Anything's permissible in poetry that comes with a
 "spurt,"
 Just any old thing to fall into line,
 And another old thing to make it rhyme.

PEP SQUAD

The Pep Squad was first organized in October 1925, under the direction of Miss Roberts. On October 6, 1926, the squad was reorganized under the direction of Miss Frese. Meetings were held every Wednesday afternoon, at which time yells and demonstrations were practiced.

The costumes of this organization consist of black skirts and yellow jackets for the girls and yellow sashes for the boys.

This year's membership is as follows:

VIRGINIA TODD, President
 RUTH MOORE, Vice-President
 RUTH ROBINSON, Secretary-Treasurer
 JACK JACKSON, Yell Leader
 LORENE WARD, Assistant Yell Leader

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

The organization of the High School Orchestra was started last year and has continued with even greater success this year. This organization is under the direction of Mr. D. W. Sauer, Director of the Chamber of Commerce Band.

The Orchestra, in company with the Glee Club, has made a number of trips to the neighboring towns where it has been quite enthusiastically received. It is one of the most important and popular organizations of the School.

The following members compose the Orchestra.

HALLIE ORR, Pianist
THEREASE FRANKLIN, Violin
MISS DEAL, Violin
HAROLD COLLINGS, Clarinet
MELVIN MILLIGER, Trumpet
WILLBERN ROBINSON, Cornet
WILBURN OATMAN, JR., Saxophone
MR. SAUER, Director

GLEE CLUB

The Girls Glee Club was organized October 5, 1926, under the supervision of Mr. Sauer. The Club meets every Monday afternoon for practice.

Mr. Sauer has taken the Glee Club to many of the neighboring towns where most enjoyable programs have been rendered. The Club is as popular in the adjoining towns as it is in Llano.

This is the first year that Llano High School has supported a Glee Club, but it has been a wonderful success and has been so well received by the public that it is to be an established organization in the school.

Following is the membership of the Club:

RUTH MOORE, President
 LORENE WARD, Vice-President
 LOIS MAE KEYSER, Secretary-Treasurer
 MISS BERTHA POOL DEAL, Business Mgr.
 MR. D. W. SAUER, Director.

WORK DAY

The second school Work Day was celebrated on October 29, 1926. The same class spirit and cooperation that was shown last year was in evidence again. The money received went to the Student Activity Fund.

The members of the different classes worked at various jobs. The Senior class served a delicious dinner, while the other classes worked at many different things about town.

The Senior class received the prize for the highest class average and the Freshman class carried off honors for earning the greatest amount of money. Virginia Simpson and Dorris Rabb received prizes for the highest individual amounts and Cora Ellen Murphy and Viola Brown, who worked at the Teich Monument Works, were rewarded for having the most unusual jobs.

ARBOR DAY

The money made on Work Day is for the benefit of the school, so the students decided to use some of it to beautify the campus. The morning of February 22, was declared an Arbor Day and all students met on the campus armed with all of the implements of tree planting.

Back of the building a row of evergreens were planted under the direction of Mr. Levy, with the help of the Juniors. Evergreens, hedge plants and other shrubs were planted all around the building. This work was in charge of Miss Deal and Miss Frese and the Senior and Freshmen classes. The ninth grade helped Mr. Vick and Mr. Sandlin plant acorns and pecans all around the campus and the athletic field.

Each high school class planted a class tree and they are all growing. The Senior tree is a pecan, located near the tennis courts; the Juniors chose a live oak and planted it near the north entrance. The Sophomore oak is growing on the south of the house, and close by is the Freshman walnut.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE MEET

The Llano County Interscholastic League Meet was held March 25-26. This year's Meet was one of the most successful of all times. One of the most interesting and important divisions was the exhibit at the court house of the work of the Llano County and Llano City Schools.

Llano was most successful in the Track and Field events. J. D. Fry received a gold medal for winning the highest number of points. Norman Schuessler, Ray Chapman and Earl McDonald deserve special mention for the part they took in track events. M. A. Reed and Jack Jackson won the Tennis Doubles, and Myrtle Dalchau was first in Girl's Tennis Singles.

Brown Kendrick was first in the Extemporaneous Speech contest; Ruth Moore in Girl's Senior Declamation, Decker Paulus in Boy's Senior Declamation. Ernestine Kowierschke and Tim Mueller were first place Declamation winners from the Grade School.

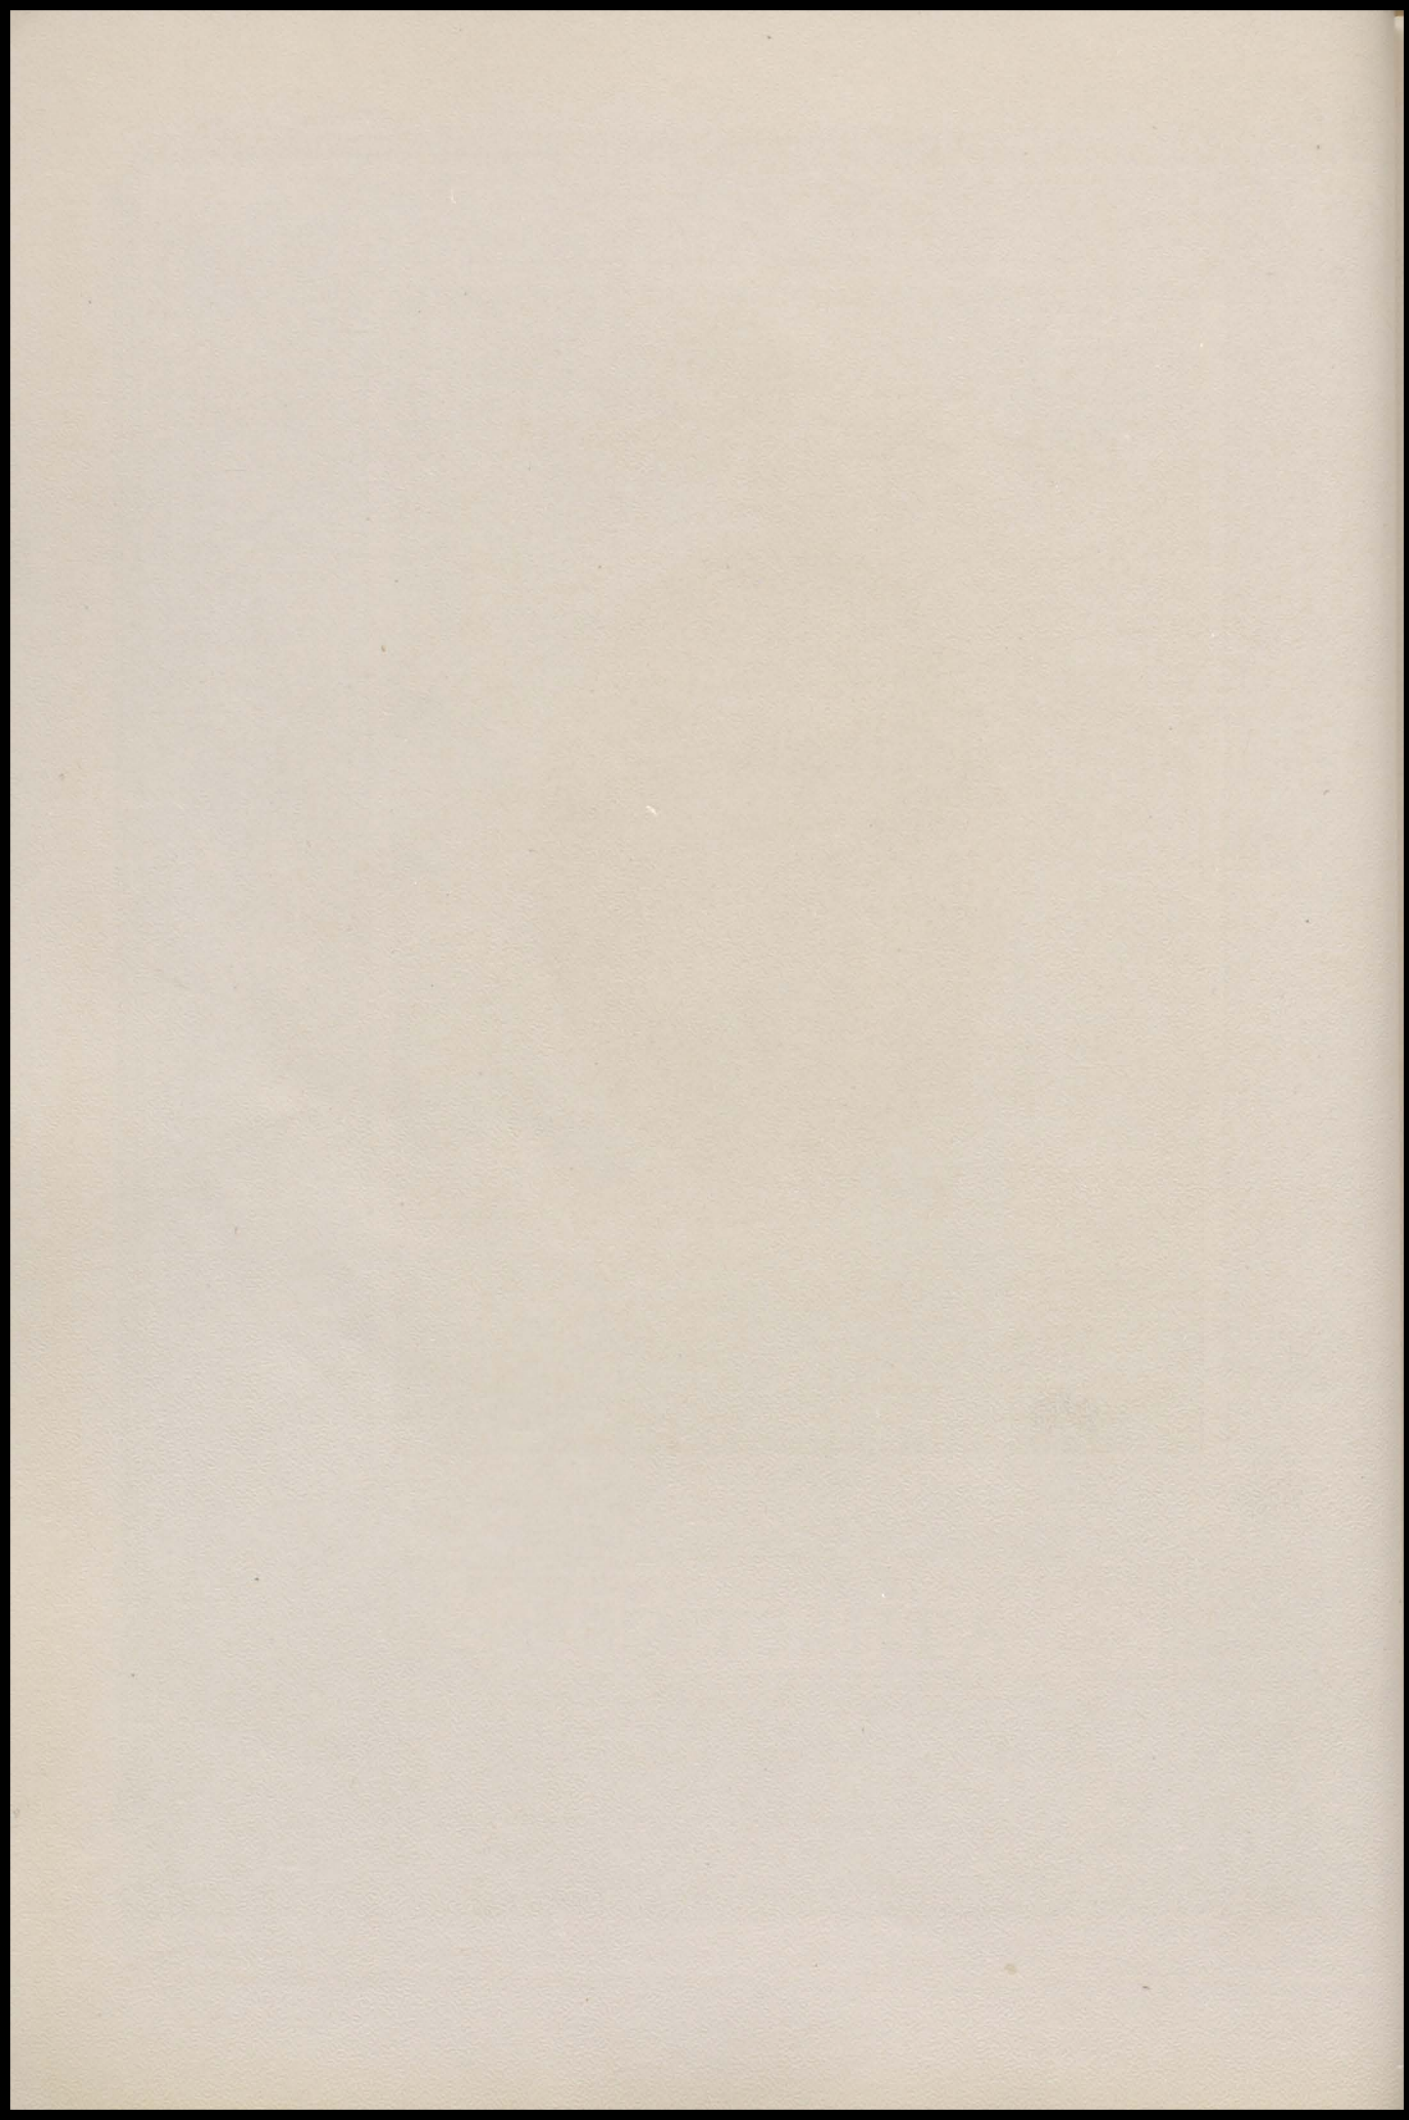

DISTRICT INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE MEET

The District Meet of which Llano County is a part, was held in Georgetown April 14-16. Llano City Schools had many who were eligible to attend this year. Among the contestants who represented Llano were: Myrtle Dalchau, Ruth Moore, Earl McDonald, J. D. Fry, Norman Schuessler, Brown Kendrick, Norris Murphy, M. A. Reed, Jack Jackson and Dorris Murphy.

Although our contestants did not win any ribbons, their best efforts were put forth, and we should feel proud of them.

ATHLETICS

J. H. SANDLIN, Athletic Coach

Coach James H. Sandlin, is to be praised for his never tiring efforts in training our boys on the athletic field. Just a mere glance at his early training in high school and college proves to us that our boys have had a wonderful instructor. Mr. Sandlin has lettered in base ball, foot ball, basket ball and track, while in high school at Matagorda. After finishing at the Matagorda High School in 1921, he attended the Sam Houston Teachers State College for three years. While there he lettered three terms in base ball, and he was also a member of the basket ball team. During 1926, Mr. Sandlin was captain of the track team.

FOOTBALL TEAM

Standing: Adolph Mathews, Rufus Deats, Dorris Murphy, Ray Chapman, Captain; J. H. Sandlin, Coach; Norman Schuessler, Lenar Birk, Earl Schneider, Donald Bruhl, Harry Westerman.

Kneeling: Norris Murphy, L. D. Broome, Detroy Lackey, M. A. Reed, Charles Nichols, Earl McDonald, Wilburn Oatman.

HISTORY OF FOOLBALL 1926

LLANO AT SAN SABA

Our boys journeyed to San Saba to play the first game of the season. They went to San Saba knowing that they were outweighed several pounds per man which caused our inglorious defeat of 26 to 0. Stew McDonald was the chief factor on the defense and was the cause of the saving of two points which would have gone to the opposing team.

MARBLE FALLS AT LLANO

The bitter defeat which we suffered at the hands of San Saba gave us the determination to win the next game that we played from Marble Town. The Llano team worked as a well oiled machine all during this game and Marble Falls fell to the tune of 12 to 0. Chapman's continued gains through gaps opened by Saga Tail Broome resulted in the victory for Llano.

LLANO AT MASON

The next game was played with the long hated rivals, the Mason Mavericks. This game was nothing but a bulk of sadness and soreness for the home team. The Mason rivals sent us to the crashing defeat of 39 to 0. We were absolutely outplayed during the entire game.

LLANO AT MARBLE FALLS

The Llano Yellow Jackets went to meet the Marble Falls team with a feeling of overconfidence. This overconfidence caused us the loss of the game although the Yellow Jackets outplayed their opponents during the first half. The final score was 26 to 0.

LLANO AT BERTRAM

The game played at Bertram was also an inglorious defeat for Llano, but we have a good alibi to offer for the defeat. The team only took one substitute and when Lackey was knocked out the sub took his place. When Rod Schuesler, the football playin' kraut, started on a ninety yard run, he was tackled by the safety and got knocked out. This was perhaps the most painful injury that was sustained during the whole season. After this injury we were forced to forfeit the game. The final score was 13 to 0.

LLANO AT CHEROKEE

The next to the last game of the season was played with the Cherokee team. This game was lost to Cherokee simply because the opposing team outplayed our boys. We hate to acknowledge this fact, but in the years to come we expect to make up doubly for this hated defeat. The final score was 18 to 7. Reed made the only touchdown during this game when he intercepted a fumble and dived across the line.

MASON AT LLANO

When Mason deemed it necessary to trust their scalps on the Llano field we felt sure of a victory, but when the backfield of the Mason Mavericks came plowing through the line the Llano team failed to comply with their determination. The boys held their rivals to a tie during the first half, but the continued plunging of the line by the heavy backfield weakened the line and from then until the last of the game they made gains at will. The final score was 20 to 0.

BASKETBALL

PONTOTOC AT LLANO

Owing to the lack of practice the Llano boys were in no condition to play such a fast team as the Pontotoc team had to boast of. Llano went down to the defeat of a small score, 7 to 4.

CASTELL AT LLANO

Another week of practice and Castell High School met the brunt of a fast attack and they fell to the score of 13 to 5.

LLANO AT CASTELL

Over confidence lost the next game for Llano when they ventured to Castell. They fell to the score of 18 to 6.

MASON AT LLANO

Our most hated rivals met an onslaught they could not stand up under. Our team was out for revenge for the defeats they suffered at the hands of Mason during the football season. They went home to tell the rest of the krauts that the score was 25 to 6.

LLANO AT PONTOTOC

The next game was with Pontotoc team and they again beat the home team by the close score of 12 to 9.

Pontotoc won the County championship and represented Llano at the District Meet. They met defeat at the hands of the Austin High.

TRACK TEAM

J. H. Sandlin, Coach
 Earl McDonald
 Ray Chapman
 Norman Schuessler

Norris Murphy
 Dorris Murphy
 J. D. Fry
 Detroy Lackey

More interest has been manifested in track during the last year than at any other time in the history of the school. Coach Sandlin had some wonderful material to work with and succeeded in developing some county championship winners.

The members of the squad were: J. D. Fry, half mile; shot put, discus, javelin and vaulting; Norman Schuessler, 100-yard dash, broad jump and 220-yard dash; D. Murphy, mile run; N. Murphy, 440 yard dash and vaulting; David Waight, half mile run, vaulting and broad jump; Ray Chapman, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and high jump; Earl McDonald, high jump, shot put, discus and javelin; Lackey, discus, javelin and shot put; M. A. Reed, vaulting, 440 yard dash.

J. D. Fry was high point man in the County Interscholastic Meet.

The relay team was composed of N. Murphy, D. Murphy, Chapman and Schuessler.

BASEBALL TEAM

Standing: J. D. Fry, Norman Schuessler, L. D. Broome, M. A. Reed, J. H. Sandlin, Coach; Ray Chapman, Detroy Lackey, Harold Collings, Earl McDonald.

Seated: Lenar Birk, Dorris Murphy, Norris Murphy.

BASEBALL

The baseball season has been a great success this year and more interest has been manifested than at any other time during the history of the school. Coach Sandlin turned out a fast team in view of the fact that the material he had to work with was very limited. The boy's taking part in the games this year are: J. D. Fry, Norman Schuessler, Earl McDonald, Harold Collings, Detroy Lackey, Ray Chapman, Donald Bruhl, M. A. Reed, N. Murphy, D. Murphy, Jack Jackson and Lenar Birk.

PONTOTOC AT LLANO

The first game of the season was played on the home diamond and the Llano boys won this game with ease. The final score was 12 to 10.

LLANO AT PONTOTOC

The next game of the season was with the team that we had defeated the week before and not being used to the diamond and also being too over confident, lost this game for Llano. The score was 12 to 4.

LLANO AT CASTELL

The next game was with a team that has not succeeded in winning over us for a great number of years. The pitching of both Fry and Schuessler was a big factor in winning this game. The score was 7 to 4.

LLANO AT MASON

When the Llano boys went to Mason they went to meet a team that was wanting revenge for the trouncing that they received in basket ball. Although the Llano team played a good game, they went down to the small score of 5 to 3.

CASTELL AT LLANO

Castell again went down to defeat when they ventured to come to Llano. Although the crack catcher, McDonald, and the third baseman, Reed, were ineligible, the team put up a good fight and beat Castell 7 to 4.

TENNIS

More interest has been manifested in Tennis this year than ever before. The two courts were in condition early in the year and were filled with players almost every hour in the day. Credit was given those who came out and played regularly. In the try out for Interscholastic League work Myrtle Dalchau won girl's singles; Dorothy Kraus and Thelma Stewart girl's doubles; Jack Jackson boy's singles, and M. A. Reed and Jack Jackson boy's doubles.

FRESHMEN ENTERTAINED

On the evening of December the twenty-third, the Freshmen were entertained at the home of Mrs. Franklin Buttery. Numerous games were played and prizes were given the winners. A large Christmas tree filled with presents was unloaded and toy horses were given each one present.

Refreshments consisting of hot chocolate and cake were served. The toy horses were given by Miss Frese to the fifty-three Freshmen as a remembrance of the Christmas season.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

El Circulo Espanol opened its series of social meetings on the evening of December the eighteenth, at which time Wilburn Oatman, Jr., entertained the members and a few invited guests with a delightful party at his home.

The approaching Yuletide season was suggested in the effective decorations consisting of Christmas symbols, mistletoe, and red and green colors. After a short musical program by Hallie Orr, piano and Wilburn Oatman, saxophone, several lively games and contests were enjoyed. Humorous prizes were given Miss Cobb, Elizabeth Newberry and Decker Paulus for success in the various contests.

After several hours of entertainment, tempting sweet course featuring the Christmas colors was served. Those enjoying the hospitality were, Misses Villa Mae Maddox, Louise Spinks, Lois Mae Keyser, Hallie Orr, Dorothy Todd, Elizabeth Newberry, Ruth Moore, Cora White Callahan, Beulah Cobb, Bertha Pool Deal and Messrs. Russell Osbourne, Decker Paulus and Murray McAnnelly.

MARY MAY ENTERTAINS THE SENIORS WITH A CHRISTMAS PARTY

On the evening of December the twenty-second Mary May entertained her fellow classmen with a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Holtzer. The decorations were significant of that happy time of the year, consisting of mistletoe and the Christmas colors.

The tree was the source of much amusement, the comical gifts exchanged by the Seniors provoking shrieks of laughter and adding to the general merriment and feeling of good will. Particularly amusing were the old-fashioned, sharp-toed shoes presented to Virginia Todd by Adolph Mathews.

Each boy was required to make a paper dress for the girl of his choice and the dresses were judged according to the workmanship. When the garments were completed the model worn by Louise Weber Currie and designed by her husband was declared nearest the height of perfection.

After the refreshments, consisting of delicious hot chocolate and dainty cakes, were served, the following guests departed, assuring their hostess that they had never spent a more enjoyable evening: Lois Stephens, Virginia Todd, Thelma Stewart, Mary Louise Peacock, Louise Weber Currie, Thelma Medlock, Ruth Robinson, Myrtle Dalchau, Leona Beesley, Annie Lottie Brown, Adolph Mathews, Earl McDonald, Melvin Milliger, Norman Schuessler, J. D. Fry and Audry Currie.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

The members of the El Circulo Espanol spent a most delightful evening Saturday, January the twenty-first when Ruth Moore was hostess to that club at her home.

The guests were entertained every minute during the evening with games, contests and musical numbers rendered voluntarily by some of the club members.

For high score in Bunco, Ray Chapman received a box of candy, and was consequently unusually popular throughout the remainder of the evening. As a reward for her ability in identifying advertisements, which she probably acquired through experience, Emily Dalrymple was awarded an attractive box of correspondence cards.

At the close of the evening an appetizing salad course was served the following: Elizabeth Newberry, Wilburn Oatman, Emily Dalrymple, Murray McAnnally, Annie Lottie Brown, Cora White Callahan, Russell Osbourn, Christine Rimes, Hallie Orr, Decker Paulus, Ruth Robinson, Louise Spinks, Margarette Hackworth, and Miss Deal.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Myrtle Dalchau was hostess to the members of the Senior Class Monday evening, February the twenty-second, at the charming home of Mrs. Raymond Byfield, celebrating George Washington's birthday.

A number of clever games and contests, featuring the theme of the occasion, afforded entertainment for the guests throughout the evening. Prizes were awarded Virginia Todd, Annie Lottie Brown, Miss Deal, J. D. Fry, and Lenox Ligon. Following the games, tempting refreshments consisting of delicious chicken sandwiches, cherry-ade and cherry macaroons were served thus bringing to a close a delightful evening of entertainment. Those enjoying the hospitality of their classmate were: Mary May, Annie Lottie Brown, Lois Stephens, Virginia Todd, Louise Weber Currie, Mary Louise Peacock, Leona Beesley, Thelma Medlock, Ruth Robinson, Thelma Stewart, Miss Deal, Lenox Ligon, Earl McDonald, Adolph Mathews, Melvin Milliger, Norman Schuessler and J. D. Fry.

HALLIE ORR ENTERTAINS EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

A most enjoyable evening was spent by the El Circulo Espanol on Saturday, February the twenty-sixth, when Hallie Orr was hostess to that club. A series of interesting games and contests furnished entertainment throughout the evening. Attractive prizes were awarded Miss Cobb in a contest in which beans were fed to a face representing President Calles, and to Ray Chapman in a Silhouette contest.

After the hour of fun, delicious refreshments were served to the following members and guests, Louise Spinks, Lucille Fleming, Christine Rimes, Elizabeth Newberry, Margarette Hackworth, Margaret Pehl, Ruth Robinson, Ruth Moore, Annie Lottie Brown, Lois Mae Keyser, Miss Betha Pool Deal, Miss Beulah Cobb, Murray McAnnally, Decker Paulus, Eugene Turbiville, Wilburn Oatman, Jr., Ray Chapman, Willbern Robinson, Brown Kendrick, Lycurgus Fabian, Charles Nichols, Bob Mayfield. Mrs. Qualls and Mrs. Orr assisted in hostess duties.

POPULARITY CONTEST

On March 2, 1927, the students of Llano High School began the yearly struggle known as the Popularity Contest. Each class chose its candidates and votes were one cent each. The proceeds went to aid the Annual Fund.

The contestants were as follows: Seniors, Louise Weber Currie, Prettiest Girl; Virginia Todd, Most Popular Girl; Myrtle Dalchau, Best All-Around Girl; Melvin Milliger, Most Handsome Boy; Lenox Ligon, Most Popular Boy; Norman Schuessler, Wittiest Boy. Juniors: Dorothy Todd, Prettiest Girl; Villa Mae Maddox, Best All-Around Girl; Ruth Moore, Most Popular Girl; Brown Kendrick, Most Handsome Boy; Ray Chapman, Most Popular Boy, and Charles Nichols, Wittiest Boy. Sophomores: Opal McKneely, Prettiest Girl; Irene Hill, Most Popular Girl; Emily Dalrymple, Best All-Around Girl; Jess Cummins, Most Handsome Boy; Jack Jackson, Most Popular Boy, and Norris Murphy, Wittiest Boy. Freshmen. Velma Bowie, Prettiest Girl; Elizabeth Smith, Most Popular Girl; Welma Rabb, Best All-Around Girl; Phil Milliger, Most Handsome Boy; Donald Bruhl, Most Popular Boy; Joe Smith Wittiest Boy.

When the ballot boxes were closed on March 26, the following candidates were victors: Louise Weber Currie, Prettiest Girl; Virginia Todd, Most Popular Girl; Welma Rabb, Best All-Around Girl; Brown Kendrick, Most Handsome Boy; Donald Bruhl, Most Popular Boy; Norman Schuessler, Wittiest Boy.

FRESHMAN TACKY PARTY

The Freshman class was organized into two sections at the beginning of school, and the section that made the lowest average up to May was to entertain the other section. Section B was defeated and the party was given at the home of Dorris and Welma Rabb. It was also decided that the party should be a Tacky Party.

Of course the evening was very entertaining because of the queerly dressed figures. Old-fashioned games were played and then refreshments consisting of soda pop, gingerbread, and all day suckers were served.

A prize was given to the tackiest boy and girl; Damon Smith and Winnie Allred were the winners.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PARTY

One of the most attractive parties of the school year took place Thursday evening, March the twenty-fourth, in the basement of the Methodist church, when the Junior class of the Llano High School entertained the Senior class and the High School faculty. The spacious room was beautifully decorated with ferns, baskets and wall pockets of lilac and blue bonnets, tied with bows of blue maline. The Senior class colors were displayed to the best advantage in all the features of the decorations.

The evening was spent in playing various games and contest. Perhaps the most unique part of the entertainment was the treasure hunt, in which Audry Currie and Solita Riley were the lucky searchers. They found the treasure; a large chest of candy, wrapped in blue and silver. In other contests Thelma Stewart, Virginia Todd, Adolph Mathews, Emily Dalrymple and Lycurgus Fabian were the winners, and received lovely prizes. The booby prize in the suitcase race went to Lois Mae Keyser and Willbern Robinson.

In the refreshment course the Senior colors were again featured in the dainty silver plate doilies and blue mint baskets and mints. The harmonizing pink mints, ice cream in a pink rose mold, and angel food squares added to the attractiveness of the plate.

The entire Senior class was present and together with most of the Junior class, faculty members and several guests, formed a personnel of fifty-six.

THE CORONATION CEREMONY

Each year the Coronation of the Queen at the close of the Popularity Contest is an important event in the social activities of the school. This year the ceremony was unusually brilliant and impressive.

The stage of the high school auditorium was beautifully decorated for the occasion, a canopy of blue and silver streamers gracefully overhanging the entire stage, and drooping directly above the royal chairs. Tall baskets of white, pink and red roses were an attractive feature in the decorative scheme. The processions of princesses, duchesses, princes and dukes, appeared in opposite entrances as each couple was announced by Tim Mueller, and filed slowly up the aisles while the march was being played by Mrs. Frank Kothmann, met at the stage, making a courtly bow, and retired to their respective places. The bevy of young ladies attired in diverse pastel shades, and each carrying a bouquet of flowers formed, together with their escorts in black coats and white trousers, an artistic setting for the entrance of Her Majesty, Queen Louise Weber, of the House of Currie, who appeared in an exquisite creation of white satin with a long white train, and carrying a large bouquet of gorgeous white roses. Preceded by the crown bearer, Little Jim Moss Inks, who was dressed entirely in white, and attended by her elf-like train bearers, the little Misses Dorothy Schuessler and Jane Watkins, daintily clad in pink frocks. Her majesty proceeded to the stage, where His Majesty, King Melvin, of the House of Milliger, met her, conducted her to the throne, and placed the dazzling crown upon her head amid the hearty and enthusiastic applause of the audience.

The entertainment following the coronation consisted chiefly of musical numbers rendered by local artists. A duet by Lois Mae Keyser and Ruth Robinson, both in Spanish costumes, and Wilburn Oatman's saxophone solo, were two features of the program highly appreciated both by the court and by the audience.

SENIORS REVEL IN PIRATE PARTY

The Seniors had a novel experience Friday evening, March the thirty-first, when Ruth Robinson entertained the class with a Pirate Party at her home in the country. The guests appeared at the appointed hour garbed in costumes characteristic of pirates, buccaneers and notorious sea-faring characters. The invitations, bearing the black pirate flag with the skull and crossbones, had thrown the recipients into a state of anxious expectancy, and consumed with curiosity, they eagerly put themselves at the command of Captain Kidd, who had in his possession a chart which was to lead them to the buried treasure. The motley crew began the search immediately and with the chart as a guide, they arrived at the spectral dwelling of an ancient recluse who knew the secret of the treasure. In spite of the fearsome aspect presented by the collection of bleached bones and skeletons scattered about, the bold adventurers stormed the place and captured the old man who conducted them to the place of the treasure.

When the chest was unearthed it was found to contain the refreshments for the evening, a very welcome sight to the eyes of the treasure seekers. A roaring bonfire was made and the contents of the treasure chest were further explored.

Captain Kidd proved to be none other than Melvin Milliger and the poor old man who had been so ruthlessly seized revealed himself as Willbern Robinson. The members of the Senior class, the faculty and a few invited guests formed the personnel of this delightfully unique party.

SENIORS HONORED WITH GARDEN PARTY

The lawn of the Franklin Buttery home was the scene of a festive occasion on Friday evening, April the twenty-ninth, when the Parent Teachers Association entertained the members of the Senior class, their parents, the High School Faculty and friends with a delightful garden party.

The keynote of beauty in the decorations was the morning glories and the soft lights, giving a symphonious note of color and displaying the class colors of blue and silver. Numerous baskets of cut flowers added much to the general loveliness of the scene.

A number of interesting and unusual games and contests together with musical numbers by the High School Orchestra and Glee Club entertained the company until a late hour, when delicious refreshments were served.

The party was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended it, and the occasion was one that will be long remembered.

The Seniors in whose honor the party was given were: Leona Beesley, Thelma Stewart, Lois Stephens, Thelma Medlock, Myrtle Dalchau, Ruth Robinson, Annie Lottie Brown, Mary May, Virginia Todd, Mary Louise Peacock, Louise Weber Currie, Melvin Milliger, Lenox Ligon, J. D. Fry, Adolph Mathews, Norman Schuessler, Earl McDonald.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

By MARY LOUISE PEACOCK

One day, several years after my graduation from High School, I came home from the office and glanced through my mail, I found that my mother had sent me a copy of The Llano News. In it I found several items of interest to me because they concerned the graduates of 1927.

Annie Lottie Brown was teaching school at Baby Head.

Mrs. Audry Currie entertained the Bridge Club in her beautiful home on last Tuesday. The honor guest was Mrs. Dayten Phillips, formerly Mary May.

Miss Virginia Todd, who is teaching Geometry in Waco High School, visited Ruth Robinson, stenographer for the Ligon-Schuessler Cattle Company.

Earl McDonald was elected sheriff by a large majority.

Miss Leona Beesley, a famous dancer in the George White Scandals of 1932, visited her mother.

The great detective, J. D. Fry, has gone to Castell to officiate in the Dalchau-Schuessler divorce case.

Thelma Stewart, New York's most famous interior decorator, has returned to her old home, Six Mile, and will open a school of Interior Decoration there.

Melvin Milliger has been offered a job as chief Cartoonist on the "New York Herald."

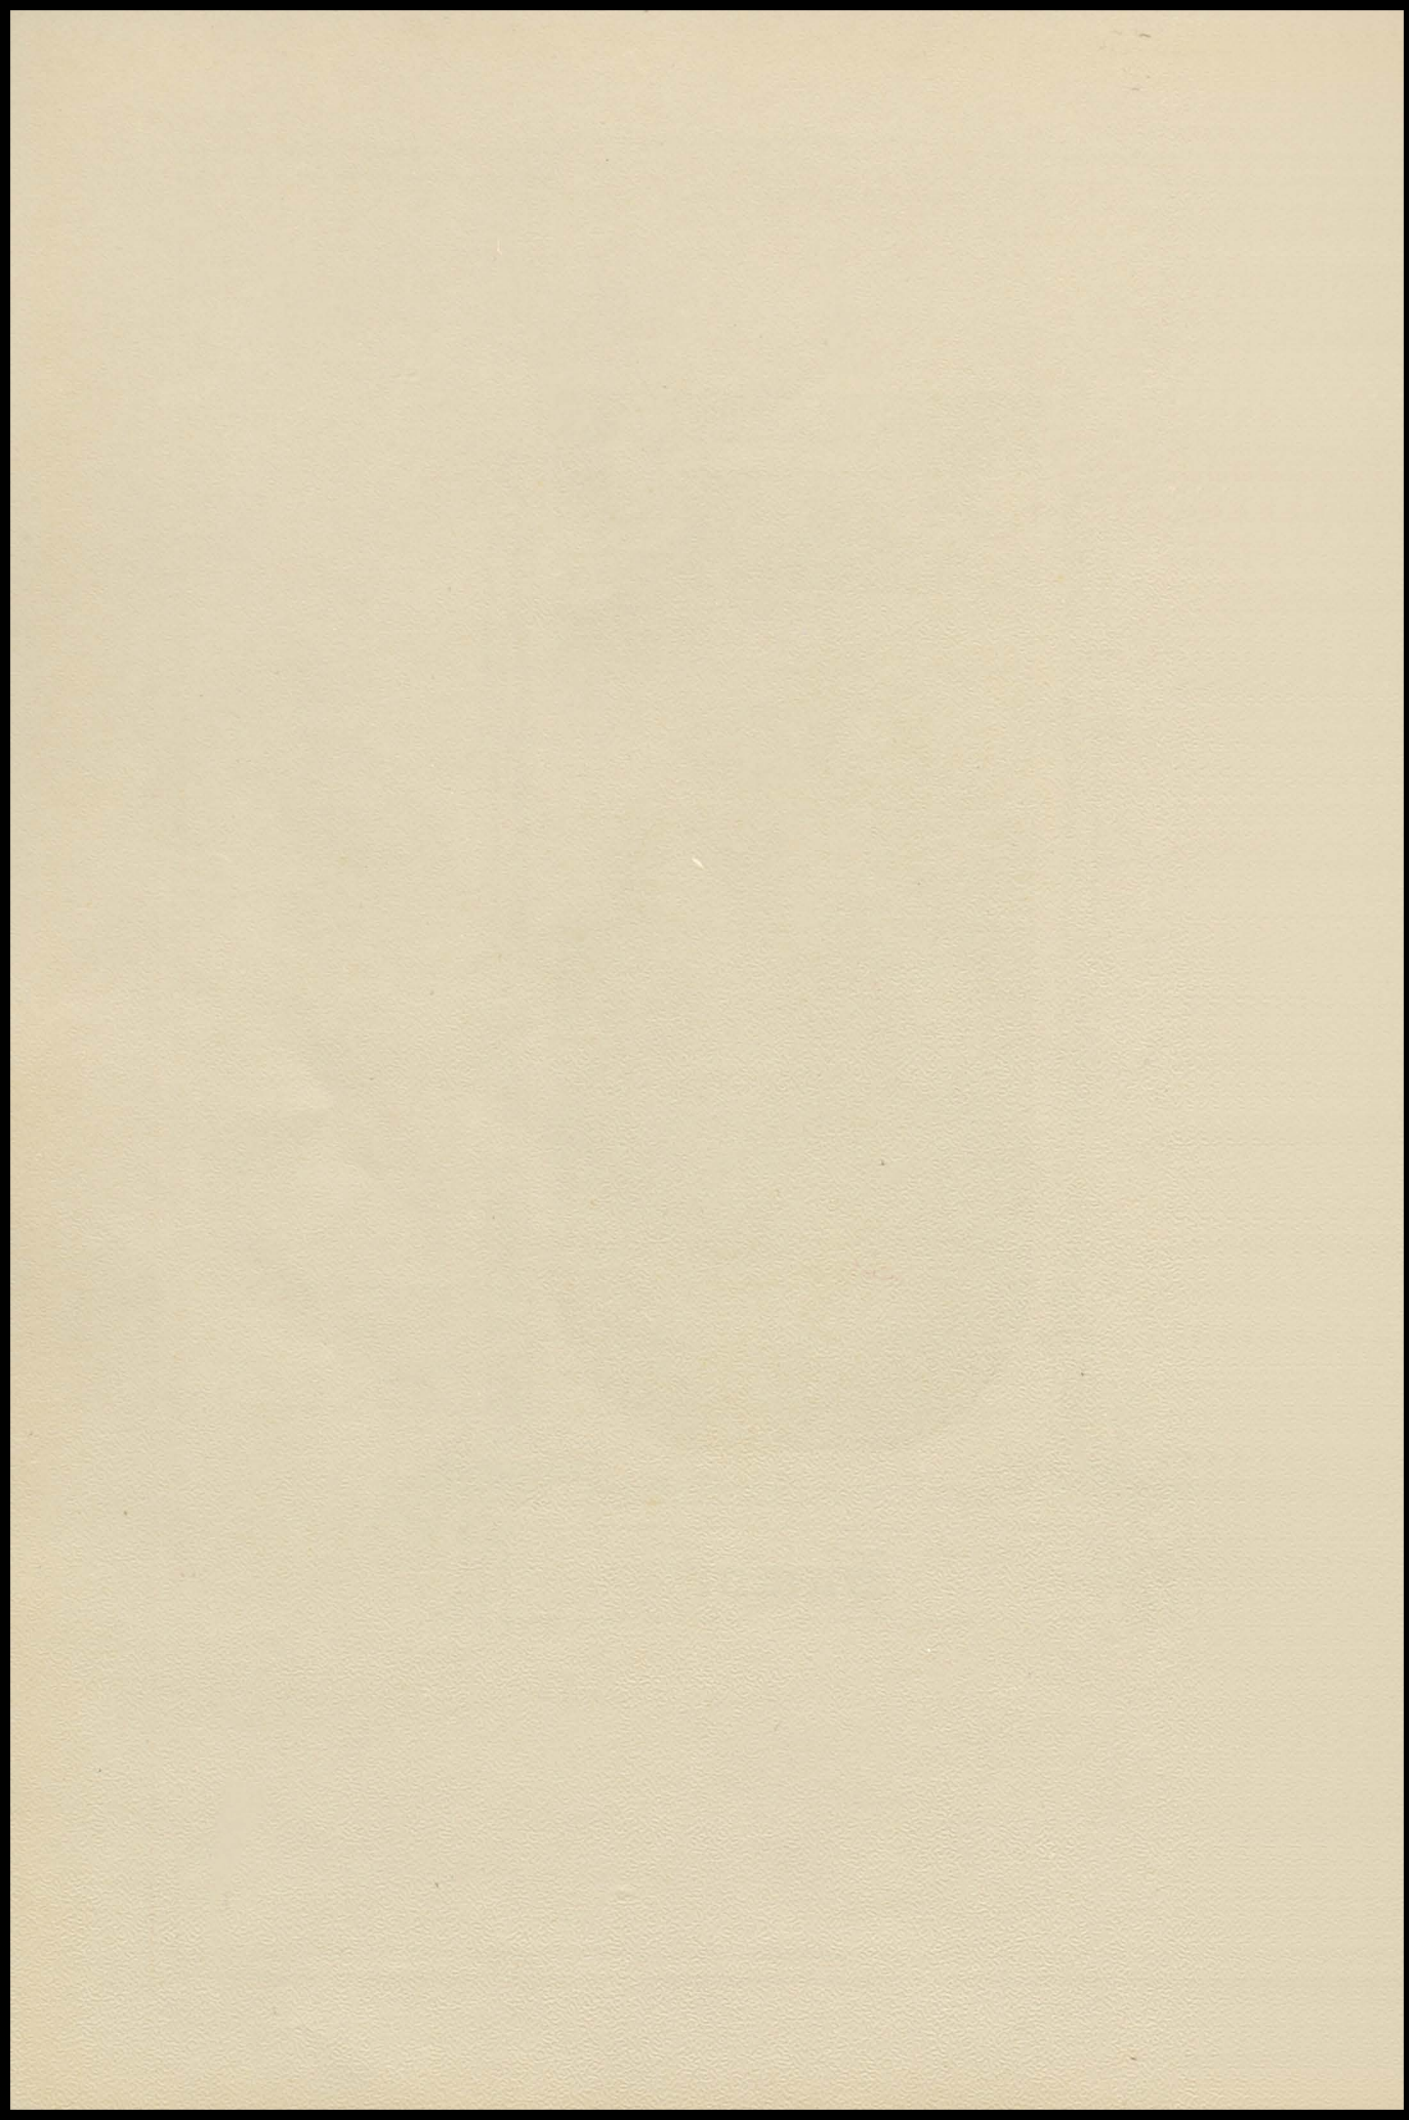

Rev. Adolph Mathews preached a very impressive sermon on the "Evils of the Modern Age" last Sunday at the Holy Roller Church.

Lois Stephens returned yesterday to San Antonio, where she teaches in Draughn's Business College.

Thelma Medlock, "our" famous actress of Hollywood, was married on last Sunday to John Barrymore.

Lenox Ligon, a prominent ranchman, has returned from an extended Western trip.

JOKES

Lee Allan: "What did you do with the darling costume you wore to the dance?"

Lorene: "I glued it in my memory book."

Stew McDonald: "When I was in China I saw a woman hang from a tree."

Mathews: "Shangai?"

Stew: "Oh just about six feet."

Miss Frese: "Who established the law of diminishing returns?"

Norris Murphy: "The laundry."

Byron Hardin: "Now, honestly, what would you do if you were in my shoes?"

Joe Smith: "I'd get a shine."

Barber (to Ena Tyson): "Shall I cut your hair close?"

Ena: "No, stand off as far as possible."

Mrs. Peacock: "Your account has been running for a long time, Brown."

Brown Kendrick: "Yes mam, so it has; let it rest for a while now."

"A Freshman is as hard to Disguise as a Ford"

Mr. Sandlin was talking to the Chemistry class about a new invention of copper wire and glass overalls. Suddenly Lorene Ward was heard to shout: "Oh, Mr. Sandlin! What color are they?"

Doran Oatman: "Dorothy, do I have to wash my face again?"

Dorothy Todd: "Certainly, why do you ask?"

Doran: "Oh, I thought I could just powder it like you do."

Tubby: "Do you know the difference between a bath tub and a parlor?"

Lucile Fleming: "No."

Tubby: "Gosh, where do you entertain your company?"

Wilma Underwood: "Each night before I sleep I write down my thoughts in a little book."

Harold Collings: "How long have you been doing it?"

Wilma: "About three years. Why?"

Harold: "Oh, I was just thinking you ought to have the first page about full."

Herman Rogers: "I lost ten dollars today."

Virginia Todd: "How?"

Herman: "Cotton went up ten dollars a bale and I didn't have a bale."

Lucile Hurt: "What color bathing suit did Dorothy have on today?"

Popular Bruhl: "I couldn't see; she was reading a book."

Father: "Do you beleive in the Devil?"

Theresa Franklin: "No, thir; it's just like Santa Claus—it's you, father."

Norman Schuessler: "Do you make life size enlargements of photos?"

Photographer: "Yes sir, it's our specialty."

Norman: "Well, do this one for me. It's a snapshot I took of a whale."

Miss Cobb: "Ruth, how many passengers does your car hold?"

Ruth Moore: "Well, it depends upon how well they are acquainted."

Brown Kendrick: "Say, who is the mean looking guy that drives your car around and works in the garden. I notice that he always gives me a mean look when I come in."

Ena Tyson: "Oh, don't mind him, that's just father."

JOKES

Prof: "All students who think themselves dumb, stand up."
 After several minutes, one girl stood up.
 Prof: "Well, Emily, do you think you are dumb?"
 Emily: "No sir; I just hated to see you standing there alone."

Proof:

Prof. Sandlin: "And so we find that heat expands things and cold contracts them.
 can anyone give me an example."
 David Waight: "Yes sir; the days are longer in the summer."

His Medal

Charles Nichols: "What did Prof. say to you for being tardy Friday?"
 Wilburn Oatman: "He gave me the D. C. M."
 Chas: "What's that?"
 Wilburn: "Don't come Monday."

Girlie Norton: "Don't you love driving?"
 Doran Oatman: "Yes, but we're not out of town yet."

Mary May: "How do you decline love?"
 Virginia: "I don't decline it."

Mr. Levy: (giving an intelligence test) "How many make a million?"
 Annie Lottie Brown: (brightly) "Not many."

In Prof's. Office

Prof. to new pupil: "Where are your parents?"
 New Pupil: "I have none."
 Prof: "Then where are your grandparents?"
 New Pupil: "I have none."
 Prof: "Then where are your supporters?"
 New Pupil: "Sir, you are forgetting yourself!"

It's better to have loved and lost
 Than marry and be always bossed.—John Henry Sandlin.

Vita Smith: "Did I show you the place where I hurt my hip?"
 Jess Cummins: "N-n-n-No."
 Vita: "Allright we'll drive over there."

Lynn Hardin: "Does your father know I love you?"
 Villa Mae Maddox: "No, he thinks you're awfully slow."

Helen Morrison: "What are you knitting, Almeda?"
 Almeda Harwell: "Something to cheer up the boys."
 Helen: "Why the war was over long ago!"
 Almeda: "This is a bathing suit for me."

Louise (the nagging wife) "Audry, is everything shut up for the night?"
 Audry (Mr. Henpeck) "Everything but you."

JOKES

Mr. Mathews: "Why don't you get out and find some kind of a job? When I was your age I was working for $3 a week in a store and at the end of five years I owned the store."

Adolph: "You can't do that nowadays. They have cash registers."

Mrs. Currie, Sr.: "Do you cook what he likes?"

Louise: "Oh, we have a better system than that. The understanding is that he is to like what I cook."

Prof. Levy: "Waiter, half an hour ago I ordered some lamb chops. Have you forgotten them or have I had them?"

Miss Deal: "Harold do you believe the devil will get us if we are naughty?"

Harold Collings: "I don't know but I do know that we will catch the devil if we are found out."

Miss Deal: "How old would a person be that was born in 1898?"

Jack Jackson: "Man or woman?"

Professor: "Give me a sentence with boycott in it."

Hugh: "Farmer Jones chased his son and didn't catch him until his boycott on a wire fence."

Norman: "Gee, Mike, when I went by your house this morning I heard something awful."

Melvin: "Aw, that was my dad. He was late for church and couldn't find his hymn book."

Curgie Fabian: "And what did you think of my last joke?"

Chapman: "I was mighty glad to know it was your last one."

Earl McDonald: "Monk, have you read Darwin's 'The Origin of the Species'?"

"Monkey" Mathews: "No, I haven't."

Earl: "Well, you ought to, it will make a man of you."

Father: "Speaking of resolutions, my offspring resolved to be more manly this year than last."

Another Father: "That's a noble aim. You should be proud of the boy that made it."

First Father: "Boy nothing, it was my daughter."

Lorene: "Any fashions in the paper, mother?"

Mother: "Yes, but they are of no use to you, this is yesterday's paper."

Mary Louise: "Mary says she intends to keep her youth."

Virginia: "I know. She never introduces him to anyone."

Mrs. Orr: "I want to buy a piano solo for my little Hallie, who is learning to play."

Clerk: "Yes madam, here is 'Twilight' for 25 cents. How would that suit?"

Mrs. Orr: "Oh, she's farther along than that. Why, last week she played a piece that cost 50 cents. Haven't you something for about one dollar?"

JOKES

Donald handed in the following essay on "Cats." "Cats that's meant for little boys to maul and tease is called Maultease cats. Some cats is reckernized by how quiet their purrs is and these is named Pursian cats. The cats that has very bad tempers is called Angorie cats. And cats with deep feelings is called Feline cats."

Chas. Nichols: "Clothes give a man a lot of confidence."

Ray Chapman: "You bet they do; I go a lot of places with them I wouldn't go without them."

Dorothy Kraus (in swimming and has called for help): "Go away! You aren't the man."

Farmer: "Hi there! What are you doing in my cherry tree?"

Decker: "There's a notice down there to keep off the grass."

Slow Barber: "Can you remember when the World War started?"

Van Rae: "No, but it was just before you started to cut my hair."

Mr. Sandlin said to Mr. Vick one day, "I went out fishing the other day and caught a fish that weighed twenty pounds."

"But how do you know it weighed twenty pounds?" asked Mr. Vick.

"Why," answered Mr. Sandlin, "because it had scales on its back."

Ray: "I can see good in everything."

Villa Mae: "Can you see good in the dark?"

Rescuer: "Hold on tight, miss, hold on tight."

Miss Cobb: "Don't say that, say 'hold on tightly.'"

Mr. Sandlin was driving down the road in his 1914 model Ford when he momentarily lost control and ran into a telephone pole. When he got home Miss Frese asked him about it. "Any damage to the car?" she asked.

"Not much. Only some of the paint peeled off," replied Mr. Sandlin.

Lee Allan: "But how can you tell he loves you?"

Lorene: "By the way he looks at me when I am not looking."

"Sheriff": "Shall we take the short cut?"

Ruth Moore: "No, mother is expecting me home early."

Audry: "Shut up, or I'll tell you a few things!"

Louise: "You might begin by telling me why you called me 'Baby' in your sleep last night."

Walter Charles: "Why does that dog sit there and watch me all the time?"

Waiter: "I expect you've got the plate he usually eats from."

Hallie: "The man I marry must be brave as a lion, but not forward; handsome as a Greek God, but not conceited; wise as Solomon, but meek as a lamb; a man who is kind to every woman but loves only one."

Brown: "By Jove, how lucky we met!"

Motorcycle Cop: "Here you, pull over."

Jess C.: "What's the matter?"

Cop: "You were doing 50."

Jess: "Will you write that down and sign it so I can show it to the gang?"

THE HIGHWAY

The last days end, one goal is reached,
Today we face new aims,
New dreams of life to be attained,
Strange goals of different names.

Smooth as the dreams of fanciful youth,
Winds the broad highway of life,
Touching the fields on courage and truth,
Reaching success by strife.

Borne by the wind that permeates
The heart of each student gay,
We face with strong purpose our several fates,
Content with our goal of today.

—The Pointer.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We, the Student Body, desire to express publicly our thanks to the following:

To the Chamber of Commerce, who have always had our best interests at heart and who so generously aided us in our Interscholastic League work.

To the Board of Education for their interest in us and in our undertakings.

To the Parent-Teachers Association, whose efforts have always been extended in our behalf.

To the Ministers of the town, who week after week have appeared on our chapel programs with inspiring messages.

To all those persons, who in any way have contributed to the support of the "Mountaineer."

READ OUR ADS

The Advertisers in this Book have made the "MOUNTAINEER" possible. The Business Men of the town have helped us financially and it is the duty of every one connected with the school to patronize the Advertisers in the "MOUNTAINEER."

Stringing the Visitor

The visitor was examining the class. "Can any little boy tell me what a fish-net is made of?" he inquired.

"A lot of little holes tied together with srings," smiled the never-failing bright boy.

"What's good for my wife's fallen arches?"

"Rubber heels."

"What shall I rub 'em with?"

Billy was just three when he made his first trip to he barber.

"How do you want your hair cut, Billy?"

"Like Daddy's—with a hole on the top."

Gunboats

"With feet like yours you should get a job with the government."

"Doing what?"

"Stamping out forest fires."

His Weakness

Louise—"Where do you have the most difficulty in making a speech?"

Mike—"In the knees."

Are the flies bad, out here?" inquired a recently arrived and exceedingly hypocritical guest.

"Nope; not very bad," replied the landlord of the tavern of Sockitypeck. "Lots of 'em go to church every Sunday."

His Fear

Father: "Well, I guess we will go to the country this year, instead of the usual seaside."

Son: "No, no. I don't want to go to the country. No country for me."

Father: "Why not, son?"

Son: "Cause I hear they have thrashing-machines down there, and it's bad enough when it's done by hand."

Vocabulary

Father: "My boy, I hear you have been most recalcitrant."

Son: "Be yourself, Pop. You've been doing crossword puzzles again."

"At last, my angel;" said the happy man after he had settled with the minister, "we are really and truly one."

"Theoretically ,yes," rejoined the modern bride, "but from a practical standpoint, it will be advisable to order dinner for two."

"Give me a glass of water, please," said the man in the barber's chair, feebly.

"You aren't going to faint, I hope," said the barber, conscious that he had been doing some extraordinary gashing of the customer's cheek.

"No, I only wanted to see if my mouth would hold water."
