Foreword

To you, of Llano High School, we present this annual. In preparing "The Mountaineer" it was our intention to recreate on its pages all the phases of our school activity during 1943-'44, so that they might be recalled to your memory in future years. If we succeed in doing so, we will consider our time and effort well spent.

Dedication

Because it was largely through her effort that we were able to publish this our first annual in eighteen years, and because her kindness, generosity, and loyalty are so fully appreciated by the student body, we gratefully dedicate the 1944 Mountaineer to Mrs. Vera Kay Shipp.

There were a number of students attending L.H.S. the year we entered the war who have since joined the armed forces. To these, our former companions, we hereby express our deepest gratitude and pray for their speedy return.

Faculty

Superintendent

F. J. Young

F. J. Young, superintendent of the Llano Schools for two years, is a very outstanding figure in all of our activities. He has been faced with many problems arising out of wartime conditions, but the manner in which he has met these problems, merits the admiration of everyone.

For his sense of humor, his fairness toward the individual student, and his warm friendliness — all of which have inspired our confidence and trust — we, the students of L.N.S., hereby express our gratitude to Superintendent Young and wish for him many more successful years as head of our schools.

Principal

Philip Barnhart

Philip Barnhart, for two years our athletic coach at L.H.S., has ably served as our principal for the past year. His teaching of history, math, and physical education all reflect his energy and ability, and his congeniality and wit have made him a favorite with all the students, both on the gridiron and in the classroom. Perhaps we can best explain "Coach's" popularity by the quotation, "The best way to have friends is to be one."
